Studio Friday to feature Colby College graduate

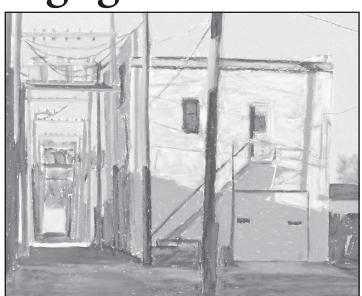

Colby Community College graduate Shela Reilley will be featured at Colby Community College's Studio Friday from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m. this week in rooms 502 and 503 of Ferguson Hall.

Area artists, including high school students, are invited to attend this free presentation of Reilley's works and methods. She will be giving presentations at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Reilley paints primarily in pastels, which provide intense colors. She does rural landscapes and mountain and urban scenes in a representational style with much liberty given to color combinations.

Reilley earned a bachelor's degree from Kansas State University in fashion design. Following graduation, she moved to New York, where she was a children's wear clothing designer and staff artist for London Fog, Gitano, Jordache and Simplicity. She moved from New York, married her husband Kelly, and after living in the San Francisco Bay area for two years, settled in Aurora, Colo.

"Today, I volunteer frequently at our two sons' school art rooms and teach adult art classes for the City of Aurora," art workshops and classes and Art Competition. These were have studied with Doug Dawson at the Denver Arts Students League. Though my favorite medium is pastels, I also enjoy other mediums, including oils."

Reilley has received many awards, including Best of Show in the Gateway to the Rockies Art Show in 2000 and 2005. Four of her paintings were among the 150 selected by jurors Neil Patterson, Oil Painters of America president, and Kristin Hoerth, Southwest Art magazine editor- with Reilley, call art instructor said Reilley. She said residential buildings on a farmstead could include the house and outbuildings used for personal reasons, such as a garage where cars are parked. Farm buildings include equipment sheds or seed storage, she said, even if those buildings are near the house.

Cunningham said the office isn't sure why the buildings were incorrectly categorized to begin with.

"Are we getting people paying their taxes under aspx. protest because of this change?" Commissioner

Paul Steele asked at the meeting Tuesday.

Cunningham said she didn't think they had received many protests, saying that most taxpayers seem satisfied after they visit with Appraiser Bruce Webb.

Taxpayers can protest their tax bills by requesting a hearing, she said, but they must pay at least the first half of their taxes by the December deadline.
