Useless facts: 1961 was the most recent year that could be written both upside-down and right side-up and appear the same. The next year that this will be possible will be 6009!

Gert and Ted Swayne along with Marlene Swayne spent some time in Wichita a couple of weeks ago meeting up with their son Marvin Swayne and wife Cindy and son Ryan of Grand Prairie, Texas.

Folklore: Acorn - An acorn should be carried to bring luck and ensure a long life. An acorn at the window will keep lightning out.

For 38 years Rudy Schlichenmayer taught over 175 kids learn the guitar, saxophone and accordion. If you know any of his students or are one please get in touch with Danyel Brenner at 719-346-8226, Kim Driscoll at 719-346-8930 or James Lightle at 719-346-5418. These people are planning to hold a reunion recital this summer in Rudy's and his student's honor.

You think you are having a bad day: A psychology student in New York rented out her spare room to a carpenter in order to nag him constantly and to study his reactions. After weeks of needling, he snapped, and beat her with an ax, leaving her with permanent severe brain damage.

Betty and Pete Jensen spent Easter Sunday at the home of Eileen Owens of Goodland enjoying a good meal and family and friends. Eileen is the mother of Pete and Betty's son-in-law Greg Nemechek.

Phrases you wish you could say at work: I'm already visualizing the duct tape over your mouth.

Frankie and Marvin Thomas spent the Easter weekend going to Greeley, Colo., to bring Frankie's mom, Wanda Adams back home. Wanda spent a week with son Mike Adams after coming back from a trip to Illinois where Charlene and Danny Mangus enjoyed a houseful of family and friends for Easter Sunday. They included Charlene's parents; Galen and Mary Carper of Jennings, her sister's Carol and husband John Topliff of Goodland; Teresa and husband Les Hopson of Bethune, Colo. and their lawn chairs, and picnic dinner. Follow two children Rebecca and Matthew. Friends attending were Jon Cromwell of Kanorado and Donna Whitmore and her kids Brock and Brooke. And of course the Mangus kids Michael, Steven, Devin and Dani.

Short wit: It may be that your sole 345. purpose in life is simply to serve as a warning to others.

Betty and Pete Jensen spent the afternoon at the Howard Johnson's Hotel enjoying the 50th anniversary party of their friends Jim and Marie Moore of Goodland.

Point to ponder: If a kid asks where rain comes from, I think a cute thing to tell him is, "God is crying." And if he asks why God is crying, another cute thing to tell him is, "Probably because of something you did."

Senate majority leader does not plan to run for re-election

By John Hanna

Associated Press Writer TOPEKA—Senate Majority Leader Tim Emert's decision not to run for re-election lengthens the list of highprofile veterans who are leaving the Legislature.

Emert, R-Independence, said Tuesday that serving in the Senate, while rewarding, proved to be "a burden on my family and my law practice." He said during the legislative session, he spent weekends working on legal business, then returned to Topeka on Mondays.

His legislative schedule also was full. While majority leader, he also served as chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, which handles anticrime legislation.

"It's time to hug my wife and clean out the garage," Emert said in an interview. "My wife and I love to travel, and we're going to do that.'

Emert's announcement came one day after House Speaker Robin Jennison, R-Healy, said he would not run fledgling company to promote hunting Bond, R-Overland Park, also is retir- Committee in 1995-96.

other committee chairmen and chairwomen in the Senate: Audrey Langworthy, R-Prairie Village, Assessment and Taxation; Barbara Lawrence, R-Wichita, Education; Alicia Salisbury, R-Topeka, Commerce; and Ben Vid- ture. ricksen, R-Salina, Transportation and Tourism.

In November, Emert announced he would seek another four-year term and run for the position of Senate president. His change of plans leaves Sen. Dave calendar. Kerr, R-Hutchinson, as the only announced candidate to replace Bond.

But Emert said Tuesday that retirement had been "always in the back of my mind," and that he decided not to run before the legislative session began in January.

Kerr, chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, said he'd heard rumors that Emert had reconsidered.

"He has been a leader on many educational and judicial issues," Kerr said. "He'll be missed."

Emert, 60, was elected to the Senate for re-election so that he could run a in 1992, after he served four years on the State Board of Education. He in Kansas. Senate President Dick served as chairman of the Judiciary

Also not seeking re-election are four publican senators named him majority leader after the 1996 elections. However, because so few attorneys serve in the Senate, he took the job back in 1998, after Chairman Mike Harris, R-Wichita, resigned from the Legisla-

That meant that Emert was chairman of a high-profile committee that typically has one of the Senate's heaviest workloads, while also being responsible for setting the Senate's debate

"I believe the majority leader's job really wore Tim out," said Senate Minority Leader Anthony Hensley, D-Topeka. "He was pulled in a lot of different directions."

Kerr and Hensley praised Emert for being fair in dealing with senators from both parties.

"I think he was good at not picking sides on difficult issues and trying to be sure everybody had an opportunity to make their case before decisions were made," Kerr said.

Hensley said: "He's a very good guy to work with, and I think it's a real loss to the Kansas Senate."

The only announced candidate for the majority leader's job is conservative Sen. Nick Jordan, R-Shawnee.

Emert's announcement Tuesday also began speculation that a new lawyer in his Independence firm would run for Emert's seat.
