looking for info

The 4-H Ambassadors and Lincoln Larks Club have done research to find out the names of the grand marshals from past fair parades as they would like to try to put up a board in the ag pavilion at the fairgrounds to recognize them. They have come up with many of the names, but are missing those from 1972, 1980, 1990, and 1993. Also, they aren't sure when the parade began having a grand marshal. If anyone has any information that would fill in the gaps, please contact Virginia Chatfield or Jan Lohr.

Artist's work shown at center here

Artist Michelle Wilson-Fisher, who is skilled in watercolor, acrylic and oil painting along with pencil sketching and three-dimensional drawing, has her work on display at the Carnegie Arts Center through Thursday, Aug. 31.

The youngest of four children in rural Osawatomie, Wilson-Fisher spent her childhood days with a woman named Irene Manly.

Wilson-Fisher said Manly helped her develop technique and implanted in her an appreciation and understanding of art expression. She said her technique matured with the help of the Osawatomie school system's gifted art program.

Today, Michelle lives with her husband Max and two daughters Shelby and Aleisha in Garden Plain outside Wichita, but travels to Goodland sometimes to see her older sister, Denise White.

Wilson-Fisher has a family and recently opened a new business, but she said she still manages to find time to paint and draw. Her exhibit is sponsored by Eklund's First Insurance.
