

Sun and fun at Sunflower Festival

It was a day of Queens and decorations, games and blindfolded men riding shiny lawnmowers at the Sunflower Festival on Saturday.

Kids and adults participated in the games and competitions throughout the day. Bob Snyder (left) tried to win the blindfolded lawnmower obstacle race.

Serena Rosenberg (right) whacked the sunflower piñata. Stephani DeLaRosa (below left) entered the bicycle and tricycle decorating competition, decorating not only her bike but herself.
