Canadian artist Cameron Cross stood in the field which will hold his 80-foot high replica of a Van Gogh painting in a month. The painting will be located to the right of Cross where it can be seen from the interstate. He arrived in Goodland on Saturday and will start work on his painting today.

Useless facts: 315 entries in Webster's 1996 Dictionary were misspelled.

This Saturday, Oct. 7 is Kanorado's Octoberfest. The kickoff will start at 11 a.m. with the parade and the theme of "Hats off to Kanorado."

There will be neat things to do throughout the day. At 11:30 a.m. the Slim 'N Trim Club will hold their annual cake walk.

Collingwood Grain will hold their ham 'n bean feed at noon at the Senior Center. The Prairie Rose Mercantile is holding a drawing for Splat the Witch, so stop in the store.

The United Methodist Women will be selling pie and ice cream at the Senior Center.

The museum will be holding their quilt raffle, so be sure and get some tickets ahead of time.

Ruleton Eager Beavers will be selling hamburgers from 5 to 7 p.m. The Little Butterfly Café will open at 7 a.m. that day to join in the festivities, so stop in for breakfast.

PRIDE will hold an auction and a talent show with local participation.

There will be a barrel train ride, carnival games like a dart throw, softball throw, ring toss, bean bag toss, knock down the milk bottles and a fish pond!

A horseshoe tournament will begin at 3 p.m. at the City Park, and there will be crafts for sale in the north room of the Senior Center.

A live concert by "The Group," will be held at the Kanorado Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. So, come on in, take a look around and enjoy the day with all the food booths and other things going on.

Things my mother taught me: My mother taught me about the science of Osmosis - "Shut your mouth and eat your supper!"

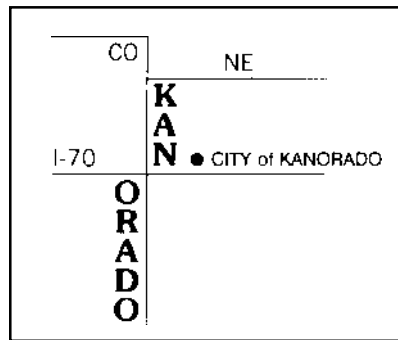

Oct. 22 will mark the 112th birthday of the Kanorado United Methodist Church. Through the years, a lot of changes have been made, with lots of pastors coming and going. Kanorado was known as Lamborn when the first church was founded with a pastor stating, "Prayer meeting is the foundation of every church."

In 1893, the first two-room parsonage was built. Then a third room was added in 1895. We are sad to report that Kay Kincaid will no longer be with us because of illness.

But we welcome the new pastor, Leonard Cox and his wife, Elsie, of Sharon Springs.

Sunday School will begin at 9 a.m. and church services will start at 10:15 a.m. So come welcome them this Sunday. And happy anniversary to the church!

Point to ponder: Why is it that when you're driving and looking for an address, you turn down the volume on the radio?

Remember to keep saving those pop tabs for the Grant Homemakers Social Club.

Give them to any member. Kanorado members are Gert Swayne, Darlene Kirby, Nila Boese and Luella Richardson.

Members from Goodland are Shirley Boll, Bonnie Daily and Vera Daise.

Pop tabs can also be delivered to the Ronald McDonald House of Denver, 1000 E. 16th Ave., Denver, Colo. 80218. They are then taken to the recycling center.

In or out-of-state groups can recycle the tabs themselves and send the proceeds to the Ronald McDonald House as well.

With Halloween so close, I thought I would throw some American folklore at you: BED - it's bad luck to put a hat on a bed. If you make a bedspread, or a quilt, be sure to finish it or marriage will never come to you.

Setting a bed facing north and south brings misfortune. You must get out of bed on the same side that you get in or you will have bad luck. When making the bed, don't interrupt your work, or you will spend a restless night in it.

I received a phone call from Leila Sturrock of Goodland, telling me the interest she had in the column a couple of weeks ago about Continuum.

Leila told me she sent the article on to her nephew, Gordon Coppoc, who teaches at Purdue University.

He told her it was passed around and they all enjoyed it very much. It was nice to have the recognition for the school. Thank you Leila for the call!

To make this even more interesting, I had recently met Leila, as she and her sister, Eva Briney, celebrated their birthdays together at a party given in their honor at the Goodland United Methodist Church.

Governor announces good budget news

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Gov. Bill Graves coupled the announcement of good budget news Tuesday with an acknowledgement of a planned "accounting adjustment" that will cost millions of dollars.

The state collected $35.5 million more than expected in its general fund in September. Revenues exceeded the estimate for the month by 9.1 percent. But Graves also announced that the Department of Revenue plans to make a one-time adjustment that will cost the general fund $19.5 million. The department found a glitch in its new sales tax computer system.

The governor acknowledged the adjustment in urging legislators and other state officials to remain cautious in assessing the state's budget picture.

"We're looking for annual stability in the Kansas budget, and these monthly reports help with our planning," Graves said in a statement.

"We cannot get too excited about a month when revenues are up, just like we shouldn't get too nervous when a monthly collection is down," he said.

The state collected almost $427.9 million in the general fund in September, compared to an expected $392.4 million. Total collections for the current budget year, which began July 1, are expected to exceed $4.4 billion.

The general fund is the largest source of money for Kansas government programs and where the state deposits most of its tax revenues.

The state has other sources of money to help finance government programs, and that's where the accounting adjustment arises.
