MEMORIAL

Dear Gram,
It's too hard to say good-bye, I have so many things I wanted to say to you, but you will always be such a part of me, you will never be far away. There isn't enough time to say everything there is to say about you, you shared your life and love so unconditionally. The lessons you taught us are so numerous, but I wrote down a few one time and gave them to you as a gift:
Things That My Grandma Taught Me:
1. Never intentionally hurt someone's feelings
2. You are judged by the people you are with
3. My knight in shining armor is out there somewhere
4. That box cakes aren't as good as home-made ones
5. What unconditional love is
6. It is OK to be different but don't make a scene
7. It's what's inside that counts
8. To take vitamins everyday
9. She only nags at me because she loves me so much
10. Broncos are #1
It's selfish to want you back and too hard to say good-bye, so we'll just say thank you and I love you lots!
Courtney
Gram, on Friday have a Happy Birthday in Heaven! We love and miss you!
In loving memory of a wonderful Wife, Mom and Grandma!

THANK YOU

We've lost an important part of us. Thank you so much to our family and friends for helping us through this difficult time. Whether it was by your visits, calls, cards, plants and flowers, food or by "being there" when we needed you, we appreciate all of you.
We are blessed to have so much support and love.
Thank You and God Bless,
Leo Stephens

A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping on an advertised bed, in advertised pajamas. He will bathe in an advertised tub, wash with advertised soap, shave with an advertised shaving cream, eat a breakfast of advertised juice, cereal and toast (toasted in an advertised toaster), put on advertised clothes, and glance at his advertised watch. He will ride to work in an advertised car, sit at an advertised desk and write with an advertised pen. Yet this man hesitates to advertise, saying that advertising doesn't pay. Finally, when his unadvertised business fails, he will advertise it for sale.
