Redwood FCE Club

The members of the Redwood Family and Community Education Club have been busy the past two months making plans for future meetings, lessons and fun.

Sixteen members met for a September luncheon meeting which was held at Kickers Restaurant. It was followed by a visit to the Carnegie Arts Center.

The business meeting was opened by President Lavaughn Glasco and covered lessons and the election of officers for the new year.

Roll call was answered by the personal choice of lessons for the coming year which included, "Small Scale Cooking," "Nursing Home Guidelines," "Living on the Bright Side," "Herbs and Spices," "Cooking with Chocolate," and "Making Pie Crusts."

Gertrude Carroll gave a report from the Extension Council meeting and plans were made for all to attend the Nov. 6 lesson on "Stroke and Diabetes."

The October meeting was held in the home of Dorothy Armstrong with Kathryn Kuhlman as co-hostess. It was attended by 13 members.

Roll call was answered with what books members had read and enjoyed.

President Glasco gave a reading called "Facts on Apples." Council Chairman Frances Jones announced that the Family and Community Education Christmas Tea will be held at 1:30 p.m. on Dec. 4 in the Sherman County 4-H Building. Helen Armstrong and Arleta Musil volunteered to represent our club as hostesses.

Our club is to host a birthday party on Nov. 14 at the Good Samaritan Rest Home.

A delightful report was presented by Helen Armstrong on a book titled "The Scarlet Thread" which was donated to the Goodland Public Library in memory of Leola Ihrig. It is the story of a woman in the 1890s and a young pioneer making a remarkable journey on the Oregon Trail.

Dorocele Foust Reynolds was welcomed back into the club. She joined Phyllis Daniels in winning a door prize.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Ruth Ross. Roxanne Burda, family and consumer sciences agent, is scheduled to give the lesson.

Federated Music Club

Twelve members of the Goodland Federated Music Club enjoyed their Nov. 6 meeting at Emmanuel Lutheran Church. Joanna Norris Grimshaw was welcomed as a new member.

After the club sang the hymn of the month, "Worthy of Worship," Martha Gunderson reported on the Northwest District Meeting in Atwood on Oct. 21. Birkley Barnes and Mary Jo Miles also attended. Our club issued an invitation to those present to come to Goodland for the district meeting next fall.

President Jane Philbrick announced that the club has received three National Federation of Music Clubs awards for the 1999-2000 program year. They are the American Music Award of Merit, Award of Merit for Chamber Music, and Award of Merit for Outstanding Participation in National Music Week.

On Nov. 4, the club provided music for artist Wilma Wethington's reception at the Carnegie Arts Center.

Isabelle Hellerud played two trumpet solos, "Rondeau" by Mouret and "Air from the Water Music" by Handel. She was accompanied by Nancy Shores. Shores played a clarinet solo, "Petite Piece" by L. Quet, with accompaniment by Carol Guyer.

The main program's theme was based on the third note of the musical scale, "E is for E Pluribus Unum" and was dedicated to the Parade of American Music.

Marlyn Mangus read "I Hear America Singing," a poem by Walt Whitman. Martha Gunderson sang a cappella "The Pesky Serpint," and an American ballad from the Revolutionary War.

Sharon Palmquist sang "Green Grow the Lilacs," a folk song from the Mexican War, and was accompanied by Shores.

Grimshaw, who was dressed as a Civil War Confederate fifer, played the Confederate national anthem "Bonnie Blue Flag" on her maple fife after explaining some historical background on the song. The club chorus then sang this Civil War song along with "Over There," a World War I song by George M. Cohan.

Barnes sang a song from World War II, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" by Frank Loesser. She had taped her own accompaniment on the recorder.

The club chorus sang a well-known song from the Vietnam War, "Where Have All the Flowers Gone?" by Pete Seeger.

Concluding the music for the evening, the club chorus sang "Let There Be Peace on Earth" by Sy Miller and Jill Jackson.

President Philbrick gave a course of study on American jazz. Co-hostesses Jan Malpert and Martha Gunderson served refreshments after the meeting.

Goodland Accidents

Nov. 9—At 7:25 a.m., Christopher C. Engel, driving a '92 Pontiac, was going south on Walnut, when Gerald G. Lesley, driving an '84 Chevrolet, pulled out at Fifth and Walnut and hit Engel's vehicle on the rear passenger side, causing it to hit a parked '94 Ford, owned by Amelia K. Mosco.

At 3:45 p.m., David A. Stevens, driving a '96 Peterbilt semi, had stopped at a stop sign at K-27 and Commerce Road, when another tractor trailer rig entered the area. Stevens had to back up to avoid being hit. Meanwhile, Joy L. Seemann, driving an '84 Chevrolet, had just pulled away from the stop sign at 25th and Commerce. Stevens didn't see Seemann's vehicle and hit it.
