Goodland woman wins football contest

This week's winner in the PowerPoints Football contest is a woman. Jamie Baker of Goodland won $100 with her total of 107 points out of a possible 136.

She said she has no strategy for picking the teams in the contest, but said she watches a lot of football.

"That's pretty much a weekend thing," she said.

Baker said she just went through the list and picked the teams without anybody's advice or encouragement. "You've got to be kidding me," she said when Sheila Smith, office manager at The Goodland Daily News, told her she had won.

Baker said she and her husband, Charlie, have been playing the contest since it started in the fall, but she said they fill out their own sheets.

She said the money will come in handy and she plans to spend it on her niece for Christmas.

"Yes, I'm sure that money will go to Miss Ellee Marie for Christmas," she said.

Baker tied with Michelle Shoff of Goodland for the prize, but won out in the tiebreaker.

The $1,000 regional winner was also a woman, Vera Webster of Topeka, who had a total of 127 points.

Entry forms can be found in Tuesday's issue of The Goodland Daily News and can be left at McDonald's, Ray's Cafe, Eagle Cable TV, Kickers Restaurant and Lounge or the Daily News.
