Technicals costly for Nuggets

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — John Stockton hit two technical foul shots in the last 1.3 seconds, lifting the Utah Jazz to an odd 98-96 victory over the Denver Nuggets on Thursday night.

The Nuggets were assessed the first technical for calling timeout when they had none left. After Stockton hit the first shot for a 97-96 lead, Nick Van Exel got another technical for arguing with referee Tony Brothers.

game. The Jazz rallied twice in the secthe last eight games.

Donyell Marshall led Utah with 24 points while Karl Malone scored 22 and Stockton had 15 points and 10 assists. John Starks and Bryon Russell straight in Salt Lake City and its 28th each added 12 for the Jazz.

24 points and 12 rebounds while Voshon fourth quarter.

It was a strange finish to a dramatic Lenard scored 23 and Van Exel had 19. The Nuggets have been one of the ond half to win for the seventh time in best teams in the NBA lately, winning 15 of 19 since mid-December, but they knew they'd have to improve their 6-12 road record to be taken seriously.

As it turned out, Denver lost its 10th in the last 30 visits after the Jazz erased Antonio McDyess led Denver with a 90-83 deficit midway through the
