Former Rockies pitcher opens season at Coors Field

JUPITER, Fla. (AP) — Darryl Kile, who won 20 games last season, will be the St. Louis Cardinals' opening day pitcher April 2 in Denver against the Colorado Rockies.

Manager Tony La Russa announced the decision Monday.

Coors Field has not been kind to Kyle. He has a 6.67 earned run average there, including the two seasons he pitched for the Rockies. In his only appearance in Denver last season, Kile surrendered 10 runs in one inning.

LAWRENCE (AP) — Going to the Final Four twice in his first five years gave Roy Williams some very bad ideas.

"I thought, heck we'll be back here every couple of years," said the Kansas coach. "I really didn't enjoy it as much as I should have."

Williams' third Kansas team went all the way to the championship game in 1991 before losing to Duke. Then just two years later the Jayhawks were back in the Final Four in New Orleans.

Flush with success, he wasn't the only one who figured regular trips to college basketball's most coveted event had been ordained for him and his teams.

So did almost all the rabid Kansas fans, and more than a few of their envious opponents.

Then a harsh reality set in, something that will be a key part of their preparation for Friday night's Midwest Regional semifinal against Illinois in San Antonio.

Not only have the Jayhawks been shut out of the Final Four the past seven years, they've been embarrassed by early exits and undignified retreats. Three times since 1994 they were seeded No. 1 and once they were a No. 2. But every time they came home trying to explain how they got ambushed by a lower seed.

While maintaining his intensity, Williams has also softened his approach.

"I was probably ... more demanding without being concerned about if it was fair, or anything like that. Now I think I'm demanding but also fair. There's a fine line between being demanding and being abrasive."

He can, in fact, be both.

"But I think the kids understand it as trying to reach some goals," he said.

If Williams has learned nothing else from all the disappointments of late, he knows to enjoy the ride.

"If you think college basketball is fun making the Sweet 16, you ought to make the Final Four," he has told his squad. "There's nothing like it."

"That's going to be something I try to get them to understand. You have no idea how much fun that is. I'm going to try to explain it."

And if they do win two more games in San Antonio and advance to the Final Four in Minneapolis, there'll be at least one member of the traveling party savoring every moment.

"I'd be as happy as anybody," Williams said with a grin. "I guarantee you, if we make it out of San Antonio, there won't be a sucker in the world happier than me."

Broncos hire new assistant coach

DENVER (AP) — The Denver Broncos have hired former New Orleans defensive coordinator Zaven Yarialian as an assistant coach.

Yarialian, who worked with Broncos coach Mike Shanahan at the University of Florida in 1983, joins 17 other assistant coaches on the team, an NFL high.

Yarialian, 49, spent the 2000 season writing for NFL.com. He is expected to play several roles.

I would appreciate your vote April 3rd!
