obituary

Lea Loraine Berry

Lea Loraine Berry, 70, a former Brewster business owner, died Sunday, June 3, 2001, at Citizens Medical Center in Colby after a long illness.

She was born June 2, 1931, in Thomas County, the daughter of Bertha (Parker) and Carl Bowen.

She and Curtis B. Berry were married Sept. 18, 1949, in Goodland. The couple lived in and around Brewster most of their married life.

She was also a housewife and enjoyed making quilts, doing embroidery, working crossword puzzles, working in her flower beds and baking pies.

She was involved in the Retired Seniors Volunteer Program, where she was honored for significant service to the community as a senior volunteer. She was also on the Brewster Alumni Board for eight years, serving as president for one year. Until this year, she was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary.

Her funeral was held Friday, June 8, 2001, at the Brewster Methodist Church. She was buried in the Brewster Cemetery.

Survivors include her husband of Brewster; a son, Gordon Berry of Brewster; three daughters, Glenda Thummel of Scott City, Collette Friess of Brewster, and Shirley Raile of Goodland; two sisters, Zeda Pounds of Fort Morgan, Colo., and Bobbe Doty of Meridian, Idaho; four brothers, Melvin "Whitey" Bowen of Brewster; Fendoll Bowen of Laird, Colo., Larry Bowen of Rocky Face, Ga., and Troy Bowen of Kelso, Wash.; eight grandchildren; and a great-grandchild.

She was preceded in death by an infant son, Clayton Berry; her parents; two sisters, Eileen Harlen of Kelso, Wash., and Winifred Bowen; and a brother, Gail Bowen of Osceola, Mo.

Atwood artist to be in Goodland Sunday

Artist Kathy Leitner of Atwood and her work will be introduced to the community at an opening reception from 1 to 3 p.m. Sunday at the Carnegie Arts Center in Goodland.

Leitner, an art teacher at Atwood High School, received her bachelor's degree in art education in 1987. She has been a practicing artist ever since then. This is her first exhibit at the Goodland arts center.

Most of Leitner's work depicts scenes of children. She works in a variety of media to create paintings, drawings and sculptures.

Her work is family oriented, which is understandable since she and her husband, Dave, have three children — Samantha, 10; Joseph, 7; and Braden, 1.

In preparation for her July exhibit, she has worked on a number of two-dimensional pieces. Her sculptures are a ceramic form, but recently she has experimented with buttons to adorn her work.

Leitner was inspired by her mother at a very young age to be an artist.

Student accepts membership in honor society

Carolyn Reitcheck of Goodland has accepted membership in the National Society of Collegiate Scholars and will be honored during a campus ceremony this fall at Kansas State University.

Founded in 1994, the society is a selective, nonprofit honors organization which recognizes first- and second-year undergraduates who excel academically. It was established on the principle that with scholarship comes a responsibility to develop leadership and a duty to perform service. Reitcheck graduated in 2000 from Goodland High School and will be a sophomore at Kansas State. She is the daughter of Phillip and Mary Ann Reitcheck of Goodland.

During her freshman year, she was a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta, a pre-med association; the Kansas State Honors Program; Phi Eta Sigma Honors Society; the Kansas State Arts and Sciences Honors Program, for which she was elected program events chairperson; and the Association of Residence Halls.

Reitcheck was elected vice president of Ford Hall for the ninth floor for the first semester and hall representative of Van Zile Hall for the second.

She was nominated to the executive board of the Association of Residence Halls and the Silver Key Honors Society and was recognized at the Kansas State Leadership Banquet.
