

Sunflower Festival fun, finery

Ping pong balls, carried along in a stream of water, were driven by a spray from fire hoses. They rolled and bounced over the bricks on Main Street.
Photo by Reaghan Smith/The Goodland Daily News

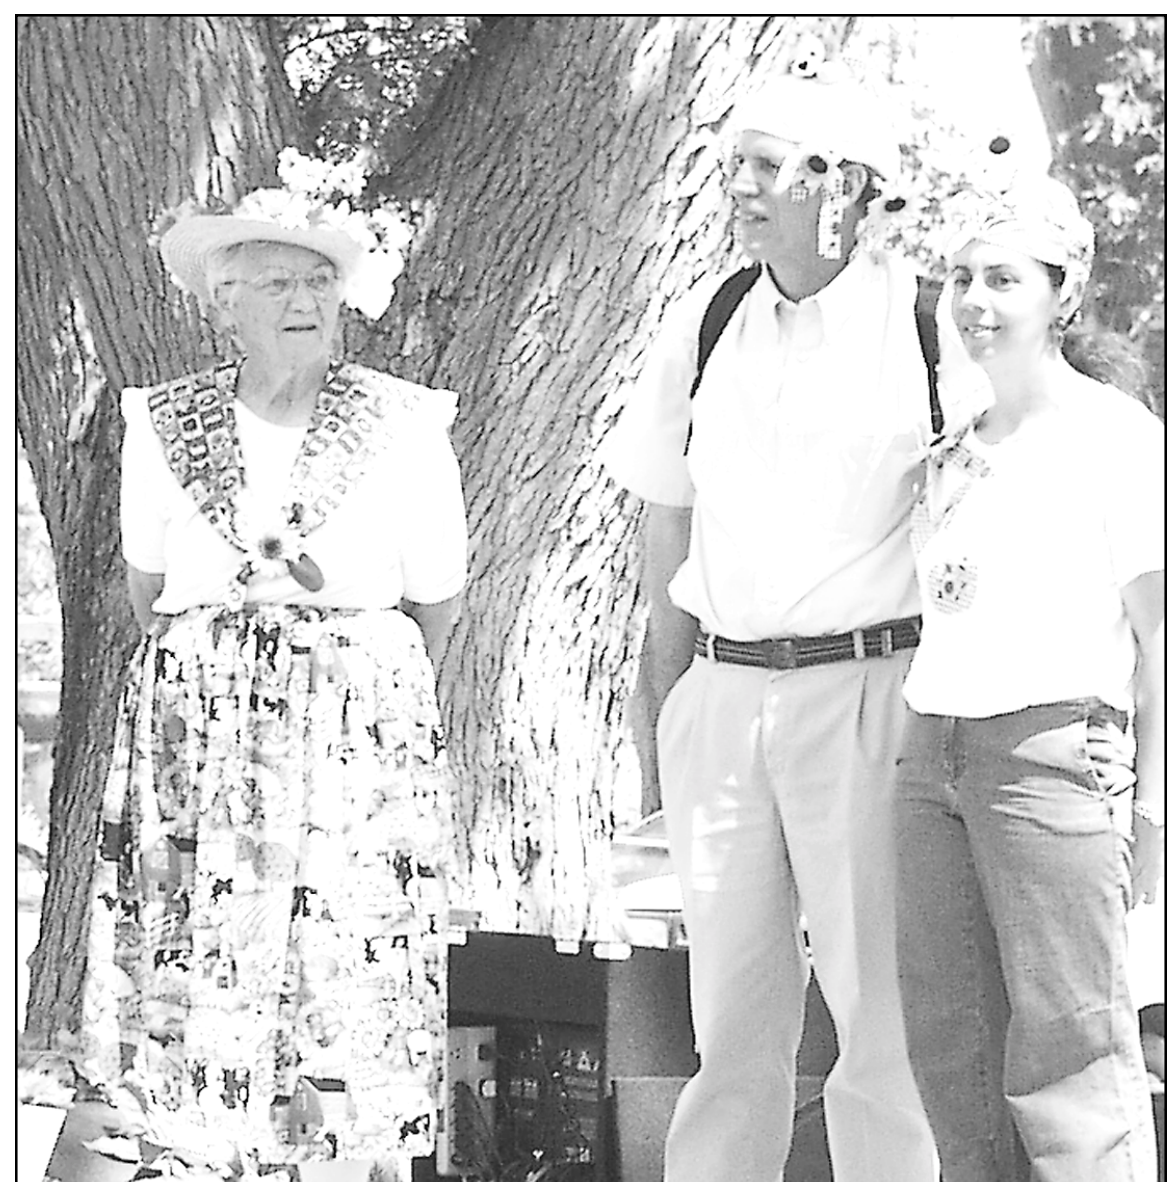

The ping pong balls approached the finish line at 8th Street, as race officials stood ready to collect the balls and announce the first, second and third place winners.
Photo by Reaghan Smith/The Goodland Daily News

Sunflower Queen Shayla Matthews was crowned by last year's queen, Page Seeger, at Chambers Park Saturday morning. She was the top fundraiser of the queen/princess competition, raising nearly half of the $1,030 total for Pioneer Park.
Photo by Sharon Corcoran/The Goodland Daily News

Sabrina Twombly (left), talent show organizer, started the show by singing "Walking After Midnight," a Patsy Cline song. The entertainment continued throughout the afternoon Saturday at Chambers Park. Photo by Sharon Corcoran/The Goodland Daily News

Jack Hart and Socorro Maia (right) won first place with a combined effort while Francis Anderson (left) placed third in The Best Sunflower-Decorated Hat Competition at Chambers Park as part of the Sunflower Festival.
Photo by Sharon Corcoran/The Goodland Daily News