Shallenburger is ‘more inclined’ to make 2002 race for governor

TOPEKA (AP) — State Treasurer Tim Shallenburger is more interested in running for governor than he was several months ago.

He said Wednesday he might not wait on Congressman Jerry Moran, who represents the 1st District of west-ern and central Kansas, to decide whether to seek the Republican nomi-nation next year.

“I’m actually probably leaning more toward running than I was 90 days ago, but 90 days ago, I was probably lean-ing against it,” Shallenburger said dur-ing an interview.

Shallenburger, from Baxter Springs, was elected treasurer in 1998, after serving 12 years in the Kansas House, the last four as its speaker.

The only announced candidate for the GOP nomination is House Speaker Kent Glasscock, of Manhattan.

Moran, from Hays, has said he will announce by Oct. 1 whether he plans to run for governor. Earlier this year, Shallenburger said his decision most likely would depend on Moran’s.

“I’m not necessarily going to wait,” Shallenburger said Wednesday. “Some of us who are interested can’t wait forever.”

Also on the list of potential Republi-can candidates are Congressman Todd Tiahrt, who represents the 4th District in south-central Kansas; Mark Parkinson, of Olathe, the state GOP chairman; and Shawnee County Treas-urer Rita Cline.

On the Democratic side, Insurance Commissioner Kathleen Sebelius has named a treasurer for a gubernatorial campaign.

Gov. Bill Graves, a Republican, won re-election in 1998, and the Kansas Constitution prohibits governors from serving more than two consecutive terms.

Tiahrt said he probably will decide whether he’ll run by the beginning of next year.

“I think it’s a little early to make a decision yet,” Tiahrt said. “I’m really focused on being a congressman right now.”

Tiahrt also said he has family con-siderations as well.

He and his wife, Vicki, have two teen-age sons and a 20-year-old daugh-ter.

“I haven’t really sat down and talked with my wife about it,” he said.

Tiahrt has said he is not waiting on Moran, but Parkinson has said he won’t run if Moran does.

“I view his candidacy as likely, so I think the most probable scenario is that I’ll stay in my private life and continue on as state chairman,” Parkinson said.

“The only thing that would force Jerry’s hand would be if, say, another congressman were to announce he was going to run.”

obituaries

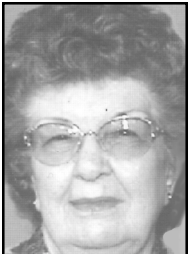

Hazel V. Tracy

Hazel V. Tracy, 78, Goodland, a longtime Brewster area resident, died Tuesday, Aug. 21, at the University Hospital in Denver.

She was the daughter of David and Anna (Schwerdt) Hutchinson and was born on October 7, 1922, in Thomas County. She grew up and attended school in Brownville area and later at-attended Goodland High School.

She married John Tracy on January 28, 1943, and traveled with him while he was in the Army through 1945. They farmed and ranched in the Brewster area for about 40 years. When John died in 1983, Mrs. Tracy moved to Goodland, but still managed all the farming responsibilities until her death.

She had been a nurse’s aide at Boothroy Memorial Hospital and worked at the Army Ammu-nition Depot, and later was a housewife and mother. She was known for bak-ing and decorat-ing cakes, served as a Sun-day School teacher for many years, was a Girl Scout leader and delivered Meals-On-Wheels in Goodland.

She was a life member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, the Sympa-thy Club, the Retired Senior Volunteer Program of Colby, Brewster extension club, and the Brewster United Method-ist Church, as well as a volunteer for the Share program for the last nine years. She qualified for a membership in the Daugh-ters of the American Revolution.

club news

Sunflower 4-h Club

The regular meeting of the Sun-flower 4-H Club was held at the 4-H building in Goodland on July 15 at 1 p.m.

The meeting was called to order by Presidnet Craig Mason, roll call of “Whose your best friend” was an-swered by 21 members, 14 parents, and 2 leaders. There was no song.

There was a short business meeting. Leader Chris reminded us of fair dates and thise in charge of the committees.

The members then left for the annual Club tour.

When the club got back, we enjoyed delicious ice cream sundaes!! Yum! The next meeting will be held Aug. 20, in the United Methodist Church.

The regular meeting of the Sun-flower 4-H Club was called to order by President Craig Mason on August 20. Roll Call “Where you would like to visit?” was answered by 20 members, 9 parents and 2 leaders.

Leaders Cris and Diane congratu-lated everyone on thei fine per-formances during the fair.

The program was rather short! A Project Talk was given by Kris Krayca on his swine project.

Kerek Mason gave the Parlimntary Procedure on the agenda for a regular meeting.

A brief recess was called and Jason Krayca led the group in a game called “Football Hand Off”.

The meeting adjourned and Corbin Townsend shared yummy ice cream bars with us.

Redwood FCE Club

Kathryn Kuhlman hosted the August 16, Redwood FCE Extension Club meeting with Dorothy Armstrong as co-hostess.

Fifteen members answered roll call and President Arleta Musil conducted the business meeting which included the reading of the minutes by Secretary Helen Armstrong and Treasurer Phyllis Daniels report, she also brought the report from the Good Samaritan Home resident staff meeting and the usual practice of decorating of the doors has been discontinued as re-quested by the residents.

A contribution of $25 was voted to be made to the cancer walk fund.

The nominating committee an-nounced officers for the coming year will remain the same. Arleta Musil president, Gertrude Carroll vice presi-dent and program chairman, Helen Armstrong secretary and Loraine Fenner public relations chairman.

The status of the Club was discussed and a motion was made and seconded, voted on and passed to discontinue as a State and National FCE Club at the end of the year. The name will remain the Redwood Club and will meet as such after the first of the year.

Lavaughn Glasco gave the lesson, “Living on the Bright Side,” as pre-sented by Mila Badel, CEA, FACS Cheyenne County at the Sherman County Courthouse.

The group took a quiz, Do you re-member? The results told your age, such as penny candies and a sling shot of wash tub ringers. A Questionnaire on “Things in Life I want to do, Places I want to go, Activities that make me feel good about myself and Is my memory working and the activity I do to keep it.”

The lesson admonished the mem-bers to start an exercise program, be nutritionally fit, simplify your life, make decisions, communicate with others, manage your time, learn to organize and delegate to others, live life to the fullest, live with gusto as long as you are physically able and learn to accept what you cannot change but keep thinking happy thoughts and laugh at yourself.

The social hour included good things to eat, sharing thoughts, telling stories reporting on the fair booth and entries by individual members. Kathryn Kuhlman was the champion club contestant.

Elaine Schwendener and Arleta Musil were the names drawn for the door prize. The next meeting will be an eat out for lunch hosted by Ruth Morton, the place to be decided later.

A Daily News Television Guide Ad could help your business too.

H&R Block has served Goodland for more than 30 years. Delilah Leiker, owner since 1999, has been a Goodland Daily News Televi-sion Guide advertiser since November 2000. She recently agreed to continue this form of advertising for another year.

new services we are offering,” Delilah said. “I placed a tax season coupon to gauge response. It exceeded my expectations. The coupon brought in new clients and saved money for current clients. This was key in my decision to renew.”
