Manhattan High School principal wants to drop Indian mascot

MANHATTAN (AP)—Manhattan High School principal Teresa Miller wants the school to stop using the Indians as its mascot.

"As an educational institution, we cannot foster harmful stereotypes which offend minority cultures," Miller told the school board Wednesday night in recommending the mascot be changed.

"I do not believe that this is an issue about being 'politically correct,'" she said. "I believe it is an issue of modeling our beliefs to educate each student to be a contributing citizen in a changing, diverse society."

Board president Nancy Knopp said the board would not act on the issue until later.
