The Beaver Valley 4-H club held their monthly meeting on Oct. 8.

The club went and participated in the "Junk Parade," and they enjoyed it.

Unfinished business to discuss was talking about who is in charge of what committee. For new business, there was a discussion about how our club could decorate for the Achievement Awards Ceremony on Nov. 4.

Boat." The project talk, by Erik Roeder, was about his poultry and sheep. May Davis talked about how to do the Heimlich maneuver. Health/Safety was by Andrea Roeder. She told us that kids are getting too much fruit juice. Recreation was by Ryan Fisher, who had us play Heads Up Five Up.

FCE Club Report

The Lincoln Larks FCE took a tour of the 1907 Queen Anne Victorian Home on Oct. 3.

Built during a time of early prosperity in 1907 by the widow of William Ennis, this two story house has been an important part of Sherman County history for almost a century. The property has been historically preserved throughout the years even though it has been used as home, a boarding house and a funeral home.

Goodland hosts district music club meeting

On Saturday, Oct. 6, the Goodland Federated Music Club hosted the Northwest District Meeting of the Kansas Federation of Music Clubs. The meeting was held in the Sonrise Christian Church, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

President Martha Gunderson conducted the business meeting, which included reports from the clubs. Reports were read by Margaret Kastens of Atwood, Birkley Barnes of Goodland and Jayne Bishop of Scott City, and Sharon Palmquist, Goodland, read the report from St. Francis. Cherie Cauley, president of the Kansas Federation of Music Clubs, reported on the state and national federation, bringing information and inspiration to the local clubs.

Northwest district officers for 2002-2004 were announced: Joyce Beims, Atwood, president; Ruth Milliken, St. Francis, vice-president; and Talley Morrow, St. Francis, secretary-treasurer.

Musical performances punctuated the morning session. Carol Moore Ramey sang "The Greatest of These Is Love," by Roberta Bitgood and "Corner of the Sky," by Steven Schwartz. She was accompanied on the piano by Lloyd Holbrook. Tim Kafka sang "Tears in Heaven," by Eric Clapton, accompanying himself with guitar. Nancy Shores, clarinet, and Suzanne Garrison, flute, played a lively duet, "Passepied," by Lacome.

During the salad luncheon, President Gunderson announced that Ruby Wilkens, Scott City, is a Life Member of the National Federation.

All 14 members of the Goodland club helped prepare for the meeting. Attending from Goodland were Barnes, Suzanne Garrison, Gunderson, Sammie Mills, Joanna Norris Grimshaw, Palmquist, Pat Schiefen, Nancy Shores and Isabelle Hellerud. Ruby Wilkens and Jayne Bishop attended from Scott City and Margaret Kastens attended from Atwood. St. Francis members were unable to attend. They are working on a major musical production. Next year the district meeting will be hosted by the Scott City club.

Climaxing the day's events, at 2 p.m., Randy and Peggy Berls presented a concert of show tunes, accompanied on the piano by Carol Guyer. Randy sang

"A Bit of Earth" from "Secret Garden," by Marsha Norman and Lucy Simon, and "Miracle of Miracles" from "Fiddler on the Roof," by Stein. Peggy sang "On My Own" from "Les Miserables," by Alain Boublil and Claude Michel Schonberg, and "Sabbath Prayer" from "Fiddler on the Roof," by Stein. They combined to perform "Pie Jesu," by Andrew Lloyd Weber, and "The Prayer" from "Quest for Camelot," by Carole Bayer Sager and David Foster. Peggy read "The Binch," a parody on Dr. Seuss' "The Grinch." In the reading, "The Binch" (Bin Laden) is frustrated that he has not crushed the American spirit. Peggy and Randy invited the audience to join them in singing "God Bless America," by Irving Berlin. The concert, open to the public, was well received by about 40 people..
