New water regulations could pull plug on state's sand and gravel industry

WICHITA (AP) — Kansas' $125 million sand and gravel industry is warning that a newly passed water use regulation designed to protect groundwater could eventually spell the industry's end.

The regulation requires sand and gravel companies whose digs cause groundwater evaporation to buy water rights when they expand or move to a new location.

Since no rights are available in western Kansas, where the state's largest pits are located, that means operators who exhaust an existing site would simply have to go out of business, said Woody Moses, a spokesman for the Kansas Aggregate Producers Association.

Ketting, pediatrician, Carl T. Newman, urologist.

Lisa Taylor, a spokeswoman for the Kansas Department of Agriculture, said sand and gravel operators would "just have to wait" until a water right "became available to purchase."

Still, the regulation's intent is not to

Viola A. Larson

Mother of Raymond Chubbuck of Goodland, Viola A. Larson, 92, died Wednesday, October 17, 2001 in Hugo, Colo.

She was born Feb. 15, 1909 in Belleville, the daughter of Lyle and Carrie (Pracht) Davis and raised on a homestead northeast of Arriba, Colo. She was the oldest of three children. She graduated from Arriba High School in 1928 and married Eldridge Chubbuck of Goodland on Sept. 14, 1928.

They lived at Arriba and had nine children. She moved to the farm north of Bovina when she married Elton Slise in January 1961. He died of cancer in 1964. She married James Larson on Oct. 24, 1966, and they lived a happily married life for 32 years.

Primarily during her life she was a homemaker, but she had worked as a postal employee and cook at Genoa Public Schools. She enjoyed growing prize winning gladiolus, peonies and until a short time ago had a large vegetable garden and shared with many. For many years she also did embroidery and crocheting.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, Oct. 23, 2001 at Genoa United Methodist Church in Genoa with Rev. Frank and Linda Hoover officiating. Burial is to follow in the Genoa Community Cemetery.

Visitation will be today from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Love Funeral Home in Limon, Colo.

She is survived by her children, Doris Maskus of Flagler, Colo., Dorothy Engle (Bill) of Limon, Raymond Chubbuck (Irma) of Goodland, Kay (Rob) Willoughby of Houston, Texas, Kary Lou Martin of Vidor, Texas, Billie Johnson (Leroy) of Genoa, Kenneth Chubbuck (Pat) of Prairie City, Iowa; 22 grandchildren; three step-grandchildren; 42 great grandchildren; four great great grandchildren; three sisters-in-law; and many nephews and nieces.

She was preceded in death by husband James Larson in 1996; her parents; two brothers; two children; one step-son; one son-in-law; two grandsons; two granddaughters; and one great grandson.

Memorials are suggested to the Denver Children's Hospital. Love Funeral Home of Limon is in charge of arrangements.
