

All-stars to play at fieldhouse

By Roxie Yonkey
The Goodland Daily News

The sixth annual Northwest Kansas All-Star Volleyball Match will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday at Max Jones Fieldhouse in Goodland.

The match will be played under college rules, with the winner being the team that takes three of five games. All five games will be played, no matter the result. College rules have changed to 30 points and rally scoring. Net serves that go over the net do count.

A selection committee chose 24 volleyball seniors from northwest Kansas to play, based on their consistently high level of play, statistics and previous honors.

This year's players are from Goodland, Brewster, Cheylin, St. Francis, Sharon Springs, Weskan, Atwood, Grinnell, Hoxie, Oakley, Oberlin, Quinter, Scott City, Triplains and Wheatland.

Hoping to duplicate last year's Whiteshirt win will be coaches Sheri Jacobs of Golden Plains and Karen Thornton of Grinnell. Coaching the Blackshirt team will be Kyle Carroll of Scott City and Jodee Rummel of Oakley.

Three teams represented in this year's match Scott City (4A), Decatur County (3A) and Grinnell (1A) were represented in state competition Friday and Saturday.

Participants will receive an All-Star shirt and a medal, which will be presented to them by their high school coach during a prematch ceremony. The Most Inspirational Player, as voted on by the players, will receive a plaque.

Last year's Most Inspirational Players were Ashley Hallagin of Goodland and Katie Rupp of Colby.

The match is jointly sponsored by KLOE/KKCI Radio and Nor'West Newspapers, which includes The Goodland Daily News.

Adult admission, which includes the program, is $4. Children under 12 are $3.

Jordan looked good, but never looked great

NEW YORK (AP) — The atmosphere was nothing like it was during the heyday of the Knicks-Bulls rivalry. Michael Jordan looked good at times, but never great. The outcome somehow seemed wrong, too.

Jordan had a chance to make his comeback a night to remember, but he missed his final shot—a 3-pointer that would have tied the game with 18 seconds left — and the Washington Wizards lost 93-91 Tuesday night to the New York Knicks.

"It's his first game of the season. I'm sure as we get along and he gets in better condition and gets a better feel for the game, those shots will go down," said Latrell Sprewell, who carried the Knicks in the fourth quarter by scoring 13 of his 28 points.

Before a sellout crowd that was more subdued than might have been expected, Jordan never developed a rhythm with his jump shot and didn't make the right decisions down the stretch. He had two turnovers in the final three minutes and missed four of his final five shots.

His final stat line — 19 points on 7-for-21 shooting with six assists, five rebounds and four steals — was largely built in the first half.

"The game is a little bit different, my teammates are a little bit different, and obviously the outcome is a little different from what I wanted," Jordan said.

New York wins; Arizona gambles

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees barely had time to savor a win before talk turned to Bob Brenly's big gamble.

That would be Curt Schilling, coming back on three days' rest to start Game 4 of the World Series.

"He's the right guy," Brenly said.

Schilling looked even better to the Arizona manager after Roger Clemens and Mariano Rivera combined for a 2-1 win Tuesday night, cutting the Diamondbacks' lead to two games to one.

While the Yankees showed they could pitch, they now must prove they can hit — against Schilling, who overwhelmed them in Game 1.

"It doesn't surprise me. We'll be there," Yankees manager Joe Torre said.

The Yankees' victory also ensured something new: Baseball will have a Mr. November, with Game 5 scheduled for Thursday.

Pumped and psyched, Clemens put on quite a performance for President Bush, who threw his own strike with the ceremonial first pitch.

The Rocket allowed only three hits and struck out nine. Rivera threw two perfect innings in relief, and that was it.

Nuggets win opener, beating Phoenix 99-96

PHOENIX (AP) — Nick Van Exel had 27 points and nine assists, and the Denver Nuggets spoiled Stephon Marbury's debut with Phoenix, beating the Suns 99-96 Tuesday night.

The Nuggets were solid down the stretch despite a 7-0 surge by the Suns in the final three minutes.

Avery Johnson made two free throws with 22 seconds left to send Denver to a 96-88 lead, James Posey answered a 3-pointer by Tony Delk with two more free throws with 14 seconds remaining, and Van Exel made it 99-93 with one foul shot with 5.5 seconds left.

Tariq Abdul-Wahad and Posey each scored 13 points for the Nuggets, and Scott Williams had 12 points and 15 rebounds.

Abdul-Wahad made two free throws in the final second, and Johnson made three lay-ups in the first 4:18 of the fourth, giving Denver an 85-73 lead.

Marion, Delk and Marbury made 3-pointers in the final 2:09, but the Suns never closed the gap.
