today in history

Nov. 8, 1901: FALL 1901 - We are doing the largest business in our history. We have made preparations to do a big business this fall. New fall goods are coming in, and we can show you the correct goods and name prices that will interest you to buy. It surely will pay you to come in and see us. — C. M. Millisack

The most interesting place now is Millisack's big department store. There you can find everything for warmth and comfort, style and quality in fall and winter merchandise. Look there for your wants.

We are showing samples of men's fur overcoats for 30 days. Call and order one before the blizzards comes. C. M. Millisack

About 300 pairs of Children's, misses', boys' and women's shoes, to close out at liberal discounts. Every pair in lots are good, clean new stuff, of broken lines, no out style, poor quality stuff. Come in and see them. C. M. Millisack drapes and sheers, after mmmmmmany years, and something in them or around them really loosened my sinus' up. But, they look better, and no doubt they smell better, although I am quickly losing my ability to smell.

Men's duck coats and underwear - a good assortment at right prices. C. M. Millisack

C. M. Millisack has bought the Foster Building. It will be used as a sample room.

Bonnie Reid and Joyce Crabtree have been working on the Alumni letter, so it won't be long until they will be in the mail. There is lots of work involved in the Alumni letters, whether they are Brewster or anywhere, and I know that all those who prepare them would appreciate any help possible.

If you haven't updated your address with your old 'alma mater' for a few years, it's you that will be missing out. If you don't know who is preparing the newsletter for your school, I imagine just sending it to the school will get it to the right people.

We have a few address of service people from the area, and I hope we can get more. I doubt that we will be able to send anything other than a greeting card, since the mail has been affected by all the events going on. Isn't it something that a few can change the lives of so many!?

Don't forget the Senior Center Bake Sale coming up at 10 a.m., Friday, Nov. 16. Guess I'd better sign off and go get the recipe book out. Time is getting short! Have a great week, and see you next time.

Emma Anna Peter

Former Sherman County and St. Francis resident Emma Anna Peter, 88, died Monday, Oct. 29, 2001, in Denver. She was born on Feb. 1, 1913, in Phillips County, the youngest of 10 children of Louise and Alvina Johanna Swantusch Eikenberg. She was baptized April 20, 1913, at the Pleasant Green Lutheran Church, which her father had helped build.

When she was 3, the family moved to a farm near Otis, Colo., where she attended a rural school through the eighth grade. After her father died, the family moved into Otis where they lived with a sister, Elsie (Walter) Bade.

Her niece, Mary Klinzmann of Haigler, and her fiancé Ed Odenbach, were friends of a young man from St. Francis, named Emil Peter. They arranged a blind date for Emma. They were married at the Bade home in Otis on May 17, 1931.

The couple moved to a farm in Sherman County, where they lived until moving to St. Francis in 1963. Emma loved to play card and board games, and her grandchildren and their friends spent many hours at her house. She loved to joke and tease, and maintained her sense of humor long after the Alzheimer's began to take its toll.

She and her husband enjoyed traveling. They had lived at Holly Heights Care Center in Denver for a little more than a year, marking their 70th wedding anniversary on May.

She was active in the County Line Hustlers Club in Sherman County, the Evangelical United Brethren Church in St. Francis, which later joined the United Methodist Church, and the women's organizations of both churches, as well as Cheyenne County Hospital Guild.

Services were Friday, Nov. 2, at the St. Francis United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Dennis Livingston officiating. Burial was in the St. Francis Cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Emil; two sons, Willard of St. Francis and Dallas of Aurora, Colo.; two daughters, Lavonne (Delmer) Zwegygart of Parker, Colo., and Sherry (Eddy) Schultz of St. Francis; daughter-in-law Arlene Peter, a sister, Martha Lueschen, and two sisters-in-law, Mildred Burr and Helen Peter, all of St. Francis; 11 grandchildren; 18 great grandchildren; and 4 step-great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her parents; a daughter, Janice; a son, Royce; daughters-in-law, Barbara Peter and Ruth Peter; a step-grandson, Robert Krien; sisters Hanna Klinzmann, Mathilda Otis, Alvina Bade, Kathryn Wells, Pauline Foree and Elsie Bade; and brothers, Albert and Walter Eikenberg.

Memorials may be made to the United Methodist Church, Hospice Services Inc. of Cheyenne County or the Alzheimers Association.

'High-energy' concert on tap Sunday in Atwood

A Lawrence singing group will be performing at the Atwood High School auditorium at 2 p.m. Sunday.

MeasureXMeasure has been described in JazzBeat as "a high-energy mix of Take 6 and Boyz II Men that'll simply knock your socks off!" Proving that the human voice is the most versatile of all instruments, the group sings a cappella and imitates percussion instruments, guitar riffs and thumping bass.

They use no drum machines, synthesizers or recorded material. The group travels coast to coast entertaining audiences with a mix of pop, funk, rhythm and blues, jazz and classical music.

Admission is $6 for adults, $3 for students or by Western Plains Arts Association season ticket.

The members of MeasureXMeasure are accomplished songwriters but also perform well-known pop songs. Their new CD, "We're Back," showcases their own material.

The program is sponsored in part by the Kansas Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

correction

An article in the Nov. 6 edition of The Goodland Daily News said the Sherman County Historical Society will be serving coffee and rolls at the Victorian House at 202 W. 13th for Veterans Day on Saturday. The society is offering a $1 discount off of tours of the house to veterans and their guests from 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. They are serving coffee and rolls during an open house from 9-11 a.m. Saturday at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall and that is where the service-time memorabilia is to be brought for display. This was a reporting error.

BANDITS (PG-13)

Brewster band looking for anyone who can play

Calling all former band members (not just Brewster Alumni.) Do you recall those horns parked in the closets? Bring them out, (dust them off!!) There is interest budding for organizing "A Band Worth Remembering." No matter how rusty your playing that horn seems, we want you! We'd like to plan on one combined practice per week. If we gain enough confidence, we'll even do some performances. Contact Eva Lou Selby at school (694-2236) or at home (694-2494).

The weather has been so beautiful this week, it is hard to realize we are in the need of moisture, but I think some rain would be appreciated. Here it is, the first week of November, and the mums are still vibrant. And, who needs to go east to see the beautiful fall colors!?

Brewster has lost two more former residents, and we send our condolences to the friends and relatives of them both. On Oct. 26, Millicent (Mickey) Tygart passed away, while in Hospice care in Barstow, Calif. She was 85 years old, and the wife of Ross Tygart, currently residing in Orlando, Florida. Her services were at Harrison Chapel, Colby, on Nov. 1. Burial was in the Brewster Cemetery.

On Oct. 29, Irma Irene Robison, passed away, in the Colby hospital, after a short illness. She and her husband, Jim Robison, farmed north of Brewster, until his death in 1994. Her services were on Nov. 1, at Harrison Chapel, and burial was in the Brewster Cemetery.

sally michael

- brewster beacon

Both of these ladies were interested in the happenings in Brewster, even after they left this area, and they will be missed. Mickey's daughter, Jan, and grandson, Craig Davis, of Orlando, Fla., were here for the funeral. Ross' health would not allow him to attend, and he remained in Florida with Jan's husband, Johnny Davis. While here, Jan and Craig were houseguests of Don Hawkins, from Tuesday evening until Friday morning. Bob Tygart, Mickey's son, was not able to attend, as his wife, Peggy, died on Oct. 20, and services for her were held on Saturday, Nov. 3. Bob did send a poem, he had written, for his mother's service, and it was shared during the funeral. As stated earlier, our hearts are with this family during this difficult time.

A luncheon was held at the Brewster Senior Center, for family and friends of the Tygarts, after the burial. Jan was able to visit with friends and former classmates. She and Craig also spent time with Mickey's cousin and husband, Pauline and Pete Smith, of Kansas City, Kan.

Following Irene's service and burial, there were refreshments served at the Methodist Church in Brewster, and family and friends were able to share memories of her and Jim. It is hard for a small town to lose so many friends in a short time.

The annual United Methodist Women's Turkey Supper will be history by the time you read this, and if you didn't make it, you missed out on a delicious meal. My taste buds are anticipating already, and it isn't going to be until Wednesday, the 7th. I do hope you made it.

Leroy and Eunice Moore, are new residents of Brewster, as of Nov. 1. They moved their home in on Iowa Street, next to Nadine Kammer's home. So, we welcome you to the city limits, folks, although you have been part of Brewster for many years.

Several people have been doctoring for different ailments, hope they all get to feeling good and completely healed of whatever is trying to attack them. This morning I washed my living room

Working cattle quietly subject of Cheyenne Wells tour

By Julie Elliott

Rangeland Management Specialist
U.S. Natural Resources Conservation Service

Are you a ranch wife or ranch hand who dreads cattle working days? Branding, vaccinating, weaning, shipping and preg checking are commonly high stress events for both animals and people. But they don't have to be.

Dr. Temple Grandin, a livestock handling and facilities consultant, will speak at the Community Building on the fairgrounds in Cheyenne Wells, Colo., on Tuesday, Nov. 27. Registration with rolls and coffee will begin at 8:30 a.m. and the workshop will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Dr. Grandin is known throughout the world for her unique ability to see things as animals do. She described this in her book, "Thinking in Pictures and Other Reports from My Life with Autism." She says she sees the details first and then the general picture. She notices high contrasts of light and dark and sees movement, just as livestock do. She is not locked into verbal thinking as most people are.

She has become a leader in the efforts to make livestock handling practices and facilities less stressful, from the ranch to the slaughterhouse. Her facilities work so well, almost half of the cattle in North America are handled in her restrainer system for meat plants.

Through her work, she has learned how to move livestock with minimal stress or risk of injury to either animal or handler. The cornerstones of her livestock movement rules are the "flight zone" and "point of balance" These rules work with all herding animals. Hotshots, yelling, kicking or slapping the animals are definitely not part of Dr. Grandin's techniques.

Dr. Grandin will use the morning portion of the workshop to discuss the principles of livestock behavior, how and what livestock see, moving cattle in large and small areas and corral design.

After lunch on your own, the group will visit a working ranch where you'll watch yearling cattle being preg checked. Dr. Grandin will give her insights as to how to make the ranch and its cattle handling techniques better.

Anyone who works with livestock, whether on a ranch or in a slaughterhouse, auction barn or feedlot will benefit. Make sure you, your spouse, co-workers and employees attend.

Registration is $25 per person. Buy four seats and get two free. While there is not a seating limit, there may be a coffee and roll limit is you don't pre-register by Monday, Nov. 19. Checks should be made out to the Cheyenne Soil Conservation District and mailed to Box 850, Cheyenne Wells, Colo. 80810. Pre-payment of the registration fee would be appreciated.

More information about Dr. Grandin and her work can be found on her website at www.grandin.com For information or to register, call the Cheyenne Soil Conservation District at (719) 767-5647 or E-mail julie.elliott@co.usda.gov.
