December 26, 1901: SHOT WHILE OUT HUNTING — Jesse Hillman Badly Wounded — Hunting Rabbits with Several Companions East of Goodland When a Winchester Pump Gun was Accidentally Discharged -The young man has rallied sufficiently from the shock to withstand an operation to remove the load of shot from his shoulder. Dr. F.H. Smith and Dr. Arthur C. Gulick performed the operation. the muscles of the right shoulder, having torn its way through the scapula. The wound is an ugly one. The charge entered the right side of the breast, just above the lung and barely missed the sub clavian artery. He seems much better and is expected to recover.

obituaries

John Michael Nold

John Michael Nold, 53, Goodland, died Friday, Dec. 21, 2001, at the Goodland Regional Medical Center.

He was born Aug. 10, 1948, in Abilene, the son of Tom and Fern Nold. He had lived at the Golden West Skills Center for several years. Services were Monday at the Danner Funeral Home in Abilene. The Rev. Rick Saylor officiated, and burial was in the Abilene Cemetery.

He is survived by three brothers, Joe and Tom Nold of Abilene, and Bob Nold, of Inola, Okla.

Dr. Jeff Jennings

The sudden death of Dr. Jeff D Jennings, 29, at his home early Saturday morning shocked the town where he grew up and where he had returned to practice medicine.

Dr. Jennings, a graduate of Colby High School, Colby Community College and the University of Kansas, joined the medical team of Colby Medical and Surgical Center in August.

After receiving his bachelor's degree in biology, Dr. Jennings was accepted into the KU Medical School in Kansas City and graduated in 1998. He did a three-year residency in family practice at Wesley Medical Center in Wichita.

As the newest physician at the Colby clinic, his practice took in the entire scope of medicine, ranging from obstetrics to geriatrics.

He had moved his family back to his home town in August after having completing a one-month rural rotation there in April.

He was a member of the Knights of Columbus, the American Medical Association and American Association of Family Practitioners, and the Colby Rotary Club.

Services will be at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Colby with Father Galen Long officiating. Burial will be at the Sacred Heart Cemetery in Colby.

Visitation will be until 9 p.m. tonight at Harrison Chapel, 190 S. Franklin, Colby. A wake service will be held at the chapel at 7 p.m..

Dr. Jennings was born in Colby on March 20, 1972.

He is survived by his wife, Angie (Somers), and a daughter, Abby, 21 months, of the home; his parents, David and Donna (Schippers) Jennings of Colby; a brother, Josh Jennings, Manhattan; and a sister, Gina Jennings, Salina.

The family has requested memorials for Abby's education fund, which may be left at any Colby bank or the funeral

With the mild fall, many of us have not thought much about using the fireplace.

• Have your chimney inspected by a professional prior to the start of every heating season and cleaned if necessary.

Creosote, a chemical substance that forms when wood burns, builds up in chimneys and can cause a chimney fire if not properly cleaned.

• Always protect your family and home by using a sturdy screen when burning fires.

• Remember to burn only wood. Never burn paper or pine boughs, which can float out of the chimney and ignite other things.

> • Never use flammable liquids in a fireplace.

> • If you are planning to install a fireplace, purchase a factory-built fireplace, listed by a testing laboratory, and have it installed according to local codes.

> • If you plan to hang stockings on your fireplace, remove them before using the fireplace or do not use the fireplace for fires.

> • Use care with "fire salts," which produce colored flames when thrown on wood fires. They contain heavy metals that can cause intense gastrointestinal irritation and vomiting if eaten.

Like other Kansans, Hall finds the times somewhat troubling.

"I don't think it'll be the same," she said. "You don't feel like you're free anymore.'

One of the more visible changes in Kansas are National Guard troops at Mid-Continent Airport at Wichita and seven smaller commercial airports around the state.

There are additional protections at Wolf Creek nuclear power plant and other key state industries. Those entering state buildings, including the Statehouse in Topeka, now face closer scrutiny.

Bioterrorism remains a potential threat, although emergency management officials say they are as prepared as they can be to deal with it. Legislators expect to address the issue next year, especially at it relates to agriculture and livestock.

There was an anthrax scare at a postal facility in Topeka which turned out to be a false alarm. Altogether, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation handled 55 calls about possible anthrax threats, though none proved valid.

At year's end, many Kansans try to follow President Bush's advice to lead as normal a life as possible. But Allen. the Menninger psychologist, said normal doesn't mean forgetting.
