Arnold Hallagin

James Arnold Hallagin, 63, brother of Jann Gillespie of Goodland, died Wednesday at Memorial Hospital of Texas County in Guymon, Okla.

He was born Dec. 25, 1938, in McDonald, the son of Marie Anne (Anderson) and J. Marion Hallagin. After graduating from McDonald High School, he attended Fort Hays State University, graduating in 1965.

He married Joyce Fleischacker on June 16, 1961, in Atwood. The Hallagins moved to Guymon in 1968, where Arnold managed the Sears store for more than 25 years and had recently worked in security at the Seaboard packing plant.

He was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church and was active in the Guymon Lions Club for more than 33 years.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Charlene (Dana) Slane, and Coleen (Charles Jr.) Michael all of Guymon; a son, James Dale (Amy) Hallagin of Barksdale Air Force Base, Shreveport, La.; his parents; two sisters, Jo Jones of Brush, Colo., and Jann (Jerry) Gillespie of Goodland; his mother-in-law, Lorraine Fleischacker of Colby; 10 grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

Services were held Saturday at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Guymon with Pastor Mark Wescoatt officiating. Burial was at Elmhurst Cemetery.

Memorials may be made to the Trinity Lutheran Church or the Guymon Lions and in care of the Henson-Novak Funeral Home, Box 1306, Guymon, Okla. 73942.

club news

The Goodland Federated Music Club met Monday at the home of Linda Koons.

President Jane Philbrick called the meeting to order with 10 members present: Birkley Barnes, Suzanne Garrison, Martha Gunderson, Koons, Marlyn Mangus, Joanna Norris Grimshaw, Sharon Palmquist, GERALYN PARKER, Philbrick, and Nancy Shores. Guest performers were Emily Langness, Nick Parker, Lanae Koons and Andrew Salvador.

The members said the NFMCCollect and sang the KFMC theme song, "Let Music, Lovely Music and the GFMC theme song, "There's Music in the Air." Garrison introduced the Hymn of the Month and led the club in singing "Jesus Is the Song" by David Danner. Koons accompanied the singing. Garrison, secretary-treasurer, read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report.

After the business meeting, Palmquist introduced the program "Beginning the Year with Bartok". Mangus read a poem, "Mountain Laurel," which was written by her grandfather, Hiram Wadsworth Parker. Barnes gave the Course of Study on Bela Bartok. Langness played the piano, "Sonatina", first movement, "Bagpipes."

Isabelle Hellerud, trumpet, played "Concerto" Part I by Johann Hummel. She was accompanied by Parker on piano. Parker, piano, played Paul Hindemith's "Il. Zweite Sonata fur Klavier, I". Lanae Koons played the flute, "Annie's Song," by John Denver, accompanied by Linda Koons on the piano. Philbrick and GERALYN PARKER played a piano duet, "Sonatina in C Major," by Carl Maria von Weber. Barnes, clarinet, played "Fantaisie-Caprice", by Charles Lefebvre. She was accompanied on the piano by Salvador.

Hostesses Koons and Parker served refreshments. The next meeting will be Mon., Feb. 4, at the home of Garrison with Hellerud co-hostess. The theme will be "Ballads".

Master gardeners will train others

The Extension Master Gardener Program, sponsored by K-State Research and Extension, trains and certifies volunteers in horticulture and related areas.

Master gardeners, in turn, volunteer their expertise and services to help others through horticulture projects that benefit the community.

Once trained, extension master gardeners provide researched-based information to the public on many topics, including, water conservation, yard waste management, regional plant adaptability, landscape maintenance, tree and lawn maintenance, environmental issues and several other topics. Master gardeners work with the extension staff to develop educational programs that meet the horticultural needs of their citizens. These may include school programs, demonstration gardens, educational programs, a speaker's bureau and answering questions on a horticultural hot line.

Program requirements are that the first year, after receiving the basic training, master gardeners are to return 40 hours of service time on projects that benefit the community and events sponsored by their county extension office. Active participation is a commitment each is asked to make to the program. After the first year, master gardeners are asked to volunteer 20 hours and continue their education with eight hours of advanced training.

A master gardener training course will be starting up soon. The first train-
