Church to hold meeting, have annual reports

This past week has been on the hectic side for me for several reasons. The main work was at the church with the upcoming annual meeting. Thus, the need of putting together an annual report booklet. As usual, the reports are slow coming in so I will have to be burning the midnight oil to get them done.

We had a guest priest this past Sunday. Father Sabetti of Salina came to serve our parish. Father Sabetti serves at St. Francis Boys home in Salina, his major work being with the young men who are trying to turn their lives around. Our regular priest Father Schneider also works at the center as the chaplain for the boys. It was interesting to visit with Father Sabetti when he got in later Saturday evening, and I met him and had a hamburger with him.

He is a very energetic young priest that makes listening to him a most enjoyable time. He had a very nice service, and the time came only too soon for him to return to Salina. Hopefully, we can entice him to come again sometime in the future.

Got a call last Tuesday to help out with bingo for the few residents at Wheatridge that like to play bingo. Not planning on doing it on a weekly basis, but I sure would like to get a couple of others to volunteer at the center to do this service. It's just for an hour and a half, so maybe something can be worked out. Those people sure deserve that little extra touch of activity.

I just got back to the school mentoring after the holidays when there was an in service for the teachers this past Monday. Maybe we can get started again as I miss working with my three kids.

Mildred Tippery gave me a brief item that she wanted to share with the residents of Goodland. Her brother Walter Ermer died Jan. 5 in Houston, Texas. He had lived and worked in Goodland several years ago with the local veterinarian. He also worked for Kenneth Hardman on his farm where the sugar factory was built. She thought some of you farmers might remember him. Sincere sympathy to Mildred and the other family members.

Mildred's daughter, Karen Goken, was here for a few days during the Christmas vacation for a visit. Karen was a teacher here before she and daughter Erin moved. It was nice to see and visit Karen when she came for a couple of meals with her mom at the center.

Get well wishes to all of those who are trying to overcome the effects of this cold/flu going around. Several at the center missed a couple of meals with this stuff. It seems it takes several days to get over the effects. A couple even wound up in the hospital with pneumonia.

We've picked up several new attendees. Extending an invitation to others in the community to come and join us for fellowship and meals.

It's hard to believe January is half over, which I noticed when I was looking up the birthdays for this week. Those on my sheet are Pat Schiefen on the 17th, Cindy Nash Wayne on the 18th and Conrad Pettijohn on the 19th. Best wishes to these and any others. No anniversaries to my knowledge.

Wish to express my condolences to Jann Gillespie on the death of her brother, Arnold Hallagin of Oklahoma. May his whole family feel the love of the Almighty that will be with them during these troubling times.

No more news so I will sign off until next week.
