Snow brought some much-needed moisture

Palm Sunday was a good day to get some badly needed moisture, and even though amounts vary, we all agree it was nice to have a little white, wet snow. So many of our snows have been more dirt colored and not very wet.

The weather report says we're only about an inch behind, but it seems like more than that. One good spring rain could put us right where we should be, so maybe we'll get that one of these days.

There's been a few folks ailing, and we wish them a speedy recovery. Cornelia Baird spent some time in Denver and also in the Colby hospital, and we hope she is feeling much better now. Curt Bear also had a round of flu that put him in the hospital, and we hope that has all been cleared up. Nelda Foust also had a few days of hospital food, and when we visited her, she said it didn't taste too bad. Now that she is home, we hope things taste even better.

When we left the Center yesterday afternoon it looked pretty well-ransacked. The carpet layers will not have too much to move out of the front area, on Monday, but, when it comes time to do the office, I'm afraid that might be a real challenge. Without the help of Barb Springsteen, Katherine and Nancy Mills (our helpers from Prairie Gem 4-H Club), Roberta and George Luckert, and, earlier in the week, Joyce Crabtree it would have been impossible to get things cleared out.

So, a big "THANK YOU" to all of the above. And next week, we will be moving the furniture and things back in, so if you want to lend a hand, it won't be turned down. Just having a few folks makes such a difference, it's hard to get motivated when there is only one.

Both of the local Easter Egg hunts turned out well, yesterday. I don't know if all the 1000+ eggs that the 4-H Club hid, were found, but all 45 that Joyce and I hid at the Senior Center were found. There was one that remained hidden for quite awhile, but when it was determined that it held one of the "gold" dollars, it didn't take long to get discovered. (Just like every other year, it takes longer to hide them than it takes for them to be found.)

went on a nice trip with Wesley and Dolores Burk of McCook, Neb., a week or so ago. They left on the ninth and returned on the 25th, so it was a nice, leisurely trip to New Mexico, Arizona and Nevada.

There are many relatives to visit, down there, and Wilma enjoyed a return to the camper park she used to stay at in Arizona every winter. Some of the same folks were there, so it was like a homecoming of sorts.

A couple from California stopped in the other morning. Violet Joy (Mayer) and Lloyd Kramer spent Thursday morning visiting with friends at the Center. They have stopped in several times in the last few years, and Violet Joy reports that her mother Dot Mayer is doing very well and is more than 95 years old now. Her eyesight is poor, but her mind is clear as a bell and she enjoys hearing from old friends.

Betty Wolfe has added school pictures from the Brewster High School 1941-42 school year plus a small panel with Senior pictures of the school's class of 1943 to the display at the Heritage Center Library and Museum. Stop in and see yourselves or maybe even your moms, dads, grandmas and grandparents or aunts and uncles.

These were the kids that lived in the years of W.W.II, and they grew up fast but honorably. It seems that history does have a way of repeating itself, and there are many things that can be learned from the folks that went through this time in our past.

I've watched some of the movies and newsreels of W.W.II, lately, and the courage of people in those times was definitely something that we can learn from in today's events. So, stop in and see the pictures and read the stories of these past times, and I think you will find it a good way to spend your pastime. (Sorry, I just couldn't help the word play!)

Betty also has a display of 1932 Red and White Grocery Store "sale ads," and I think the prices will amaze some of us. I'm cooking a leg of lamb now that I sure hope doesn't burn because it cost what we used to spend on our weekly grocery budget when we were first married.

Back in the days of those ads, I imagine the price of groceries was grimaced about, just like it still is today.

Another interesting fact, from Betty's research — last week, the annual Lion's Club Basketball game was held for the grades 1-5. Do you know how long this has been a tradition, for Brewster? Would you believe 45 years of these little guys and gals, running down the court, heaving that ball with all their might, and making a basket (or not) to the delight of all the onlookers!?

In the beginning, the boys were the players, and the girls were cheerleaders. Betty has special memories of her daughter Gloria and Colleen Brooks Rail, and they were as excited about cheering as the boys were about playing.

The proceeds from these games have helped past Brewster band members have the experience of joining band members from all over Kansas at the Kansas State Lions Club Band Camp.

I have to share a memory from one of our kids in the games. Our youngest, Barry, was out playing, probably in the second or third grade, and I wondered where he got the wrist bands but figured he'd borrowed them or something.

The next cold day, when I went to put on my new crew socks, the tops were no longer attached, and the mystery was solved. It was one of those times when it was hard to be mad and laugh at the same time. Thanks, Betty, for the memories.

You can go to the library, on Monday or Wednesday afternoons, 1-4; or Saturday mornings 9-11, and find your special picture, or book or movie. Tell her Sally sent you. See you all next week.
