

April first day for jokes

Happy April Fool's Day. Hope all made it through the day without falling victim to a joke that was intended for fun only.

There is some activity at Wheat Ridge Center. Myrtle Vinduska, Dorothy Heiny and Velma Scheopner are either residents there or are in the process. I've heard a couple more but arrangements aren't completed at this writing.

On the subject of moving, Mildred Tippery has moved to Salina to be nearer to her daughter Karen. I will miss her at the center as the other three now are residents at Wheat Ridge. I hope all are happy in their changes.

I have a couple of belated birthdays, those of Ed Linville on the 28th and Quentin Cundiff on the 27th. Quentin is the grandson of Wanita Rico of our community. Happy belated birthday wishes to them. Current birthdays include those of Jonah McClung on the second and Keith Engel on the fifth. Birthday greetings to these also.

Belated anniversary greetings to Max and Jan Carman, former residents of Goodland.

I heard over the weekend that a former Goodland resident, Helen Alcorn, had passed away in Colorado Springs. She was the mother of Jim (Avis) Alcorn of Goodland and Linda (Ron) Asmussen, also former residents of Goodland. Sincere sympathy to these families during the trying time.

With the Easter season over, things will be less hectic at church, and maybe I can get some other things done that I put on the back burner. I worked an hour or so Sunday afternoon and also Monday afternoon in my flower beds. I got three of the smaller beds done but have three more larger ones to go.

I'll have to work into working on a gradual scale or I'll be in trouble with my back. I have a couple of men that will be raking my yard and hopefully will be able to haul off the junk they get out of my yard.

This trash situation is no longer a laughing matter. It is serious and will only get more serious unless the two governing bodies quit their bickering and get to working for the good of the community. Our local alley dumpster has been crammed full of large cardboard boxes the past couple of weeks. In fact, it has been so full you could hardly drop in a small trash bag. I haven't a clue who has been doing it, and I doubt that one will ever know.

I guess I'll have to put my yard trash in my car and haul it to the dump, something I'm not looking forward to doing. I sure hope they get this mess on a working plan. What are the older seniors without cars going to do with their yard trash? Another expense for some that will be almost impossible to cope with.

There are no answers, just frustrations. More restrictions cause more frustrations and more deliberate violations.

I'm getting around to finishing this that I started several days ago. Seeing no more notes, I'll close and get it ready for the paper. See you all next week. Take care.

February meeting

The Goodland Federated Music Club met on Monday, February 4, 2002 in the home of Suzanne Garrison. President Jane Philbrick called the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m.

The members repeated the NFMC Collect and sang the KFMC theme song, "Let Music, Lovely Music. . . ." and the GFMC theme song, "There's Music in the Air". Suzanne Garrison introduced the Hymn of the Month and led the club in singing "I Know the Lord Laid His Hands on Me" an African-American spiritual.

Linda Koons accompanied the singing. Suzanne Garrison, Secretary-Treasurer, read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report.

After the business meeting, Sharon Palmquist introduced the program, "Ballads." Marlyn Mangus read two poems, "Ballad of Boot Hill", by W. A. Ward, and "Inventory", by Dorothy Parker. Sharon Palmquist gave the Course of Study on "Ballads".

Martha Gunderson sang "Young Charlotte", unpublished music that was transcribed from a tape recorded by Dora Coons in 1960.

"Go 'Way from My Window", a Folk Blues arranged by Luigi Zaninelli, was sung by Sharon Palmquist, Soprano I, Linda Koons, Soprano II, and Suzanne Garrison, Alto. It was accompanied by Nancy Shores.

"Lowe Bonnie", a Traditional Scottish Ballad arranged by Mel Bay, was sung by Joanna Norris Grimshaw, who accompanied herself with the guitar.

The program concluded with "Frankie and Johnny", arranged by Joe "Fingers" Carr, played on the piano by Nancy Shores.

Guests during the evening were

Carol Jolly, Paul Garrison, and Andrew Shores.

Hostesses Suzanne Garrison and Isabelle Hellerud served refreshments.

March meeting

The Goodland Federated Music Club met on Monday, March 4, 2002, in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Birkley Barnes, Vice-president, called the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m.

The members repeated the NFMC Collect and sang the KFMC theme song, "Let Music, Lovely Music and the GFMC theme song, "There's Music in the Air". Suzanne Garrison introduced the Hymn of the Month and led the club in singing "Joy in the Morning," by Natalie Sleeth.

Linda Koons accompanied the singing. Suzanne Garrison, Secretary-Treasurer, read the minutes and gave the treasurer's report.

The Music Club welcomed Carol Jolly as a new member. It was announced that Daniel Blake won the essay contest for National Music Week. The contest is sponsored by The National Federation of Music Clubs.

During the business meeting officers were elected for the next year: Nancy Shores, President; Linda Koons, Vice-president; Martha Gunderson, Secretary; and Marlyn Mangus, Treasurer. After the business meeting, Sharon Palmquist introduced the program, "March Madness". Marlyn Mangus read the poem, "The Fiddler of Dooney" by William Butler Yeats.

Isabelle Hellerud, trumpet, played "Londonderry Air", an Old Irish Air. She was accompanied by Nancy Shores, piano.

"An Irish Lullaby", a skit authored by Martha Gunderson, was performed by the "Not-So-Great Irish Tenors", Birkley Barnes, Martha Gunderson, and Marlyn Mangus.

Ron Barkley, a guest performer, sang several Irish songs: "Galway Bay" by Dr. Arther Colahan; "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover" by Mort Dixon and Harry Woods; "That's an Irish Lullaby" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling". The club members joined in on the chorus of "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling".

Joanna Norris Grimshaw, fife, played "Garryowen", accompanied by Martha Gunderson, piano.

The Goodland Recorder Ensemble played "Irish Dances" by J. R. Shannon. The Ensemble is composed of Marlyn Mangus and GERALYN PARKER, Soprano Recorder; Birkley Barnes, Alto Recorder; Martha Gunderson, Tenor Recorder; and Pat Schiefen, Bass Recorder.

Guests during the evening were Ron and Betty Barker, Leah Shores, and Andrew Shores.

Hostesses Pat Schiefen and Nancy Shores served refreshments.

Grocery meetings canceled

Informational meetings about opening a community-owned grocery in downtown Goodland that were to be held on Wednesday and Thursday have been canceled.

The committee had scheduled the meetings to answer questions and recruit families to invest $2,000 each in the co-operative grocery. The group has an offer to lease the old Jubilee building on 11th and Broadway and is now working to bring in money. It might look at other buildings as well, however.

Steve West, a committee member, said the group plans to meet tonight to make decisions about the grocery. He said more information would be available after that.
