Blast from the past an appreciated diversion

The last few weeks, I have padded the news with Betty's bits, and I sure thank her for helping out with these notes. When I was young, I remember the folks reading the newspaper, and commenting on the local news section.

They said things like "You can sure tell who the columnist is buddy-buddy with." Or "I've heard about all I want about so and so's social life."

For a long time, I wondered why the things we used to do, or the company we had, was never listed. Well, folks, I can tell you just what the secret to that puzzle is. And, I hope you don't mind if I share the answer with you.

It's because so few folks share their experiences with others, and yet, they seem to enjoy hearing what is going on in town. I hope you take this friendly hint to heart, and share your news with us.

In the meantime, I'm still grateful for Betty's help, with her items from past columns. Just think, fifty years or so from now, maybe the news you give us will be part of another writer's column.

On Tuesday, the 7th, the Brewster School had their Spring Concert with Mrs. Selby directing. It had a very patriotic fervor, and those attending felt a little like the 4th of July was here already.

Have you ever noticed how much straighter people sit or stand, when listening to the songs that our military claim as their anthems? Roger's eyes always mist a little when "Anchors Aweigh" is played, and I think it's great to feel like the schools are helping the pride and respect for our country to be encouraged. So, Thank You, Mrs. Selby, and all who helped with this program.

Speaking of standing a little straighter, Willard Moore was walking tall while he had Maxine home for a few days this week. She is doing very well, and maybe one of these days, she will be back home on a regular basis. She was able to attend the potluck at the Senior Center on Wednesday and the supper that the Rebekahs enjoyed at Bubba's on Thursday evening. It's good to have you feeling better, Maxine!

The rains keep missing us, but, by the same token, so do the bad storms. Roger and I got caught in a hail storm in Hays on Sunday evening. We were at Wal-Mart, and we'd left Alli (our dog, for those that might not know), at our daughter's house.

We called to see if all was well, and Beth said our grandkids were in a dither because Allie was standing under a skylight that had just been broken by large hail. Allie was just standing in a trance, more curious about the hollering than the noise of the storm. All ended well, but that's the biggest hail I've ever seen!

The city-wide garage sale is Saturday, June 1st, so don't forget to sign up for a spot either at Gloria's Beauty Shop or the Brewster Senior Center.

You don't have to be a local citizen to have a sale, and I believe there will be areas where you can set up. And if you don't have anything to sell, then there will be plenty of things for you to buy. Remember, mark Saturday, June 1, on your calendar, and be ready to go at 8:30 a.m. See you!

I have been giving the hours for the Heritage Center (1-4 p.m. Monday and Wednesday and 9-11 a.m. on Saturday), but don't think I've given the hours for the Senior Center lately. Our hours are 10 a.m.-noon and 2-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Each Wednesday, we have a potluck lunch, which is always a meal fit for a king! Inace Parker has the Center open each Monday, and I have it open Tuesday through Friday.

The Senior Center is for the benefit of those 55 and older, but everyone is welcome to come in and get acquainted. Actually, we would enjoy knowing all our neighbors, young and old, and if you want to know about the heartbeat of a town, the Senior Center is probably one of the best places to start.

The last two weeks of school are so full of activities, they will go fast. Tuesday, the 14th, is the seniors' last day of school. Their Baccalaureate will be Sunday, May 19th, at 2 p.m., at the Methodist Church. Graduation will be at 4 p.m., at the high school gym.

May 17th will be the last day of school for the 8th grade students, and their graduation will be at 8 p.m., May 20th, in the High School Gym. On the 20th at 9 a.m., the kindergartners will have their graduation, also in the gym.

On Thursday, the 16th, there will be a Brewster school play, at 7 p.m., so be sure to work that into your schedule. The play is called, "Murder, by Request", and I am sure there will be many laughs as well as shudders.

Inace Parker was the guest of Mary Hurr at the annual Colby Bowling Banquet and was honored for her many years of bowling. Inace bowled until last year, and she might still stop in and enjoy a line some day.

News from the Library includes a collection of mysteries, westerns, fiction and non-fiction on many subjects and talking books and videos. There are also several large print books and books for every age from the very young to the very mature. Betty would love to see more of us enjoy what is available to us.

Twenty years ago, on May 20th, 1982, the Senior Class held their Baccalaureate in the Methodist Church with Pastor Joe Coachman playing the processional and recessional and Pas-
