Couples flew in for steak dinner

By Peggy Horinek

The Bird City Times
On Saturday, June 29, three planes landed at the Bressler-Young Airport in Bird City between 6 and 6:20 p.m. The aviators had heard about the great steaks at Big Eds.

The first to land was Dr. Jim and Vicky Baker of Goodland, then Warren and M.K. Bishop from North Platte, Neb., and last were Dave Hilt and John Stuart of Burlington, Colo.

The group met in Longmont, Colo., and then flew to Bird City. There were to be six planes but two from Phoenix were grounded by smoke in Arizona and one from McCook couldn't join them because the pilot's wife had surgery. Two of the planes were built by the owners in their garages. They meet and fly coast to coast. Florida, Washington, Oregon, and the Bahamas are a few of the destinations they have flown to.

When asked if their steaks were worth the trip, they all gave an enthusiastic "yes."

Former resident survives roll-over west of Canon City, Colorado

A former Goodland resident, Jeffery Brooks of Westcliffe, Colo., survived a roll-over accident 27 miles west of Cañon City, Colo., last month.

Brooks, brother of Kanorado resident Jenni Hanevik, was badly injured. Donations for his medical expenses are being accepted at Western State Bank or may be mailed to Hanevik at 511 Front St., Kanorado, 67741.

The Colorado State Patrol said Brooks, 30, was eastbound on U.S. 50 in a 1993 Dodge Intrepid about about 5:30 a.m. June 25 when the car left the roadway, went down an embankment and through a barbed wire fence, hit a boulder and rolled onto its top.

The car was engulfed in fire, which destroyed the airbag system, making it impossible to tell if the air bags deployed.

The report said there were no tire marks on the road and no indication that Brooks hit the brakes. Trooper James Jacobs cited Brooks for careless driving.
