today in history

Aug. 6, 1902: The commission met to fix tax levies. Court expenses have been more than ever due to the Schell trial. Terms have been brief in the past.

From The Goodland News, provided by the Sherman County Historical Society.

Couple wed in June in Ontario, Canada

Laura De Adder of Newmarket, Ontario, Canada, and Steven Van Loenen of Goodland married June 8, 2002, at Newmarket Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Taylor officiating the double ring ceremony.

Ron and Linda Van Loenen of Goodland are his parents, and Dave and Cecilia De Adder of Newmarket are hers.

Wearing a traditional white satin wedding gown with a scooped neck, tip of the shoulder straps, embroidery and sequins and a semi-cathedral train, she was given in marriage by her father.

The church was decorated with stargazer lilies, burgundy and champagne roses, gerbera daisies and rice flowers.

Anna Lensink was the maid of honor, and Barbara Rousselle, Julie De Adder and Stephanie De Adder were bridesmaids.

Michael Van Loenen was the best man, and Jim Barnim and Cliff Saint-Cyr were groomsmen.

Alayna Orellana Schwalm was the flower girl, and a pianist, Rachel DeBoer, and a soloist, Kim Reid, provided the music.

The reception and dance was held at the Lions Club Hall. Diane Jackson and her daughter Janelle of Olathe and Carolyn Stroman of Weslaco, Texas attended the ceremony.

The couple honeymooned in Fort Lauderdale and lives in Olathe. Both attended the Mid-America Nazarene University in Olathe.

School lacks money to hire teachers for new classrooms

TOPEKA (AP)—Some parents are upset that the Topeka school district doesn't have enough money to hire teachers for 19 new classrooms built with bond issue proceeds.

The district had planned to use the new classrooms to reduce the student-to-teacher ratio in second-grade-classrooms to 18-to-1 from a limit of 25-to-1.

But bond money can only pay for facilities, not employees. And the $20 per-student increase in state funding that the 2002 Legislature approved wasn't enough to pay for the new teachers, an estimated expense of $665,000, said Brad Stauffer, the district's spokesman.

"We shared during the bond information process that there was a possibility this may happen," Stauffer said. "It's kind of like the chicken and egg:

In order to reduce second-grade class size, what must come first, the staff or the classrooms? We thought it would be best to build the classrooms first and try to staff them if the money became available."

The second-grade classrooms were built with part of the proceeds of a $24.5 million bond issue approved in April 2001. The bulk of the bond issue paid for a $17.5 million sports park on the southwest corner of the former Topeka State Hospital grounds.

The cost of building and equipping the 19 new second-grade classrooms was just more than $3 million.

The rest of the bond issue proceeds went to pay for 22 other classrooms that will be used to implement a districtwide, all-day kindergarten program and maintain an 18-to-1 student-to-teacher ratio at the first-grade level.

Former police officer goes to trial

NEWTON (AP)—A former Newton police officer has been ordered to stand trial this fall on charges of abusing and neglecting three former prisoners at the Harvey County Jail.

Brad J. McMichael, 33, pleaded innocent in May in Harvey County District Court to three counts of mistreatment of a confined person and alternative charges of three counts of battery. All six counts are misdemeanors. Trial was set for Oct. 30.

Prosecutors say McMichael allegedly "neglected" or "ill-treated" a person detained or confined on three separate dates in 2001. Two men and one woman are named as victims in the complaint.

McMichael faces up to a year in jail and a fine up to $2,500 on each of the mistreatment of a confined person charges, and up to six months in jail and a fine of up to $1,000 for each battery charge.
