Reece Tedford and Sara Parsons

Couple wed in Iowa

Sara Parsons and Reece Tedford of Bolivar, Mo., married June 22, 2002, at the Leon, Iowa, Bible Church with Brian Hardee, former pastor, officiating.

Myron and Penny Tedford of Goodland are the groom's parents, and Jerry and Tracey Parsons of Leon, Iowa, are the bride's.

The wedding had a Cinderella theme with glass slippers, a prince charming and a horse and carriage driven by Roger Leeper of Leon. The bride was escorted down the aisle by her father while he sang "Butterfly Kisses" to her.

Katie Cox of Leon was the maid of honor, and Travis Gattshall of Goodland was the best man. Brandon, Brittany and Brooklyn, triplet cousins, were flower girls and the ring bearer.

Renee Tedford, sister of the groom, was the photographer and assisted Uncle Jack Parsons on the video camera. The flower girl dresses and the bridesmaid's dresses were made by Grandma Maxine Parsons of Leon.

Providing music were Charletta Durell, pianist; Sharon Day, flutist; and Pastor Patrick Weaver and Jeremy Parsons, vocalists. Jeremy, brother of the bride, sang "I'll be Here," by Steven Curtis Chapman and sang "O Glorious Love" with Weaver after the pastor gave a challenge to the couple.

A reception followed the wedding at the church with Jill, Sheena, Emily and Ashley, cousins of the bride, serving. "Cinderella" had a happy ending.

The bride is a junior, majoring in pre-physical therapy, and the groom is a senior, majoring in sports management emphasis in administration, both at Southwest Baptist University in Bolivar.

Max and Bernice Tedford of Goodland; David and Lynette Huff of Hotchkiss, Colo.; Oliver and Mary Mothershead of Leon; and the late Carl and Maxine Parsons of Leon are grandparents of the couple. Dale and Thayne Breckenridge of Leon are honorary grandparents.

matters of record

Amanda K. Weber, 19, of Goodland was fined $125 for speeding, 8/1/65.

Oct. 16 — Jonathan Mintle, 18, of Colorado Springs was fined $254 for speeding, 10/1/70.

Cowboys should be proud of accomplishments

Football for Goodland is over until next year. The Cowboys certainly lost a squeaker last week, but they should still be proud of their accomplishments this season. As the saying goes, wait until next year. Congratulations to the team for its fine showing during such a cold night.

Kansas State is doing well, but the poor University of Kansas is still struggling this season. Colorado University is doing okay, but the Broncos sure didn't fare well Monday night.

Football, a strange game, seems to depend on the luck of the players. Denver has two major injuries that will be a hard thing to overcome for the remainder of the team's games. Good luck to all those teams with their remaining games.

As usual, time is running out on me for getting this done. It is something others have noticed and remarked about. Here the month of November, which seems to have just begun, is half over.

Even the kids remarked Monday about how fast Thanksgiving is coming up. I sure would like to know why time moves so fast.

The chicken noodle dinner at the church seems to be a success. The new elevator at the church was certainly used by many.

Alyssa and Nathan Brady liked operating the unit for people, and I've had several tell me how nice it was not to have to make it up and down all those stairs.

One gentleman told me it made for an enjoyable dinner since he didn't have to confront the stair climb. It was neat to get on the lift, and then away it went. I hope all that used it felt a need for it.

Thanks to all for their attendance. One lady guest and I talked for a few minutes, and we both agreed it was wonderful how the community responds by attending these affairs. Her church had its fund-raiser a week or so ago. It was a success too.

is doing fine since being back in the hospital a couple of days. It was nothing serious, but she needed the care available at the hospital.

Laura is looking good and feeling much better. She is starting to go back to work slowly, and the whole family is getting more settled into a routine since Ashie came into their lives. I saw her just a day ago, and she is still cute as a button and growing.

I hope Gary gets to feeling better since he picked up the crud and hasn't felt too chipper. He has that cough that hangs on forever.

Florence Farris dropped off a couple of items. Her main item that will be of interest to some in the area was the passing of Leonilde "Donna" Yehle. She was the wife of Merle Dean Yehle who grew up on a farm northeast of Kanorado.

The Yehles lived in Reading, Mass., a suburb north of Boston. They had two children, Giannina Yehle and Dean Roland Yehle, both of Reading.

Mrs. Farris thought some might like to send a card to Merle Dean Yehle at 26 Parkman Road, Reading, Mass. 01867.

Merle is Mrs. Farris's nephew. Sincere sympathy to her, her family and the entire Yehle family, whom I didn't know.

As usual, Mrs. Farris was a busy woman visiting family and friends with dinner and other activities. Some of the activities were her enjoyable times with grandchildren, attending the dinners at the Catholic, Christian and the Episcopal Churches with her friends, Inez Bennett and Berniece Peters, and the family of her son and his harvest crew.

Having come from the Edson area, she is still drawn to going there to see old friends. One of her friends was Beryl Owens, who died a couple of weeks ago. Mrs. Farris will miss her, as they were both still active in the Edson Social Club. She visited the Owens family the night before her funeral.

Inace Parker, a grand lady who lives in Brewster, celebrated her 95th birthday Oct. 15. Belated birthday greetings to her.

Mrs. Parker had lunch several times with different friends, among them, Mitch and Patty Tiede and Gary and Ricky Farris and their families. She visited her friends Barbara Caldwell, Freda House and others. She too had just a few trick-or-treaters on Halloween night. It was just too cold for the kids and their parents to be out for very long.

Those with birthdays on my calendar are John Golden, Fran Maricle and James Wegener on the 12th, Jennifer Mentzer on the 15th and Sidney Rasure on the 16th.

Happy birthday to these and others having added one more year to their calendar of life.

When I finish this column, I need to start my project of making turkey centerpieces for the center out of tree bark, pine cones and silk flowers. I hope to get this all done in an afternoon and evening.

After I drop off this column, the only thing left for me to do is my church work for the week. It's been a lot slower than the past few weeks.

Take care of yourselves, check on your older friends and neighbors and give your outside pets plenty of food and shelter, as we experience these colder days and nights. Until next week, God bless you all and keep you safe.
