North Korea rattles sword Prime time

By the Associated Press INTERNATIONAL

SEOUL, South Korea — A defiant North Korea warned that sanctions against it would "mean a war," as thousands of people rallied today in the communist capital to support the country's military.

The threat came as South Korea dispatched another top diplomat to Washington today to seek a peaceful solution to the nuclear standoff. National security adviser Yim Sung-joon is to meet his U.S. counterpart, Condoleezza Rice, and other White House officials.

Yim's mission coincides with talks already underway in Washington among other senior diplomats from South Korea, Japan and the United States.

A day earlier, the U.N. nuclear watchdog gave North Korea a second chance to abandon its suspected weapons program — delaying the possibility of U.N. sanctions.

"Sanctions mean a war, and the war knows no mercy," said the North's official Korean Central News Agency.

In the North Korean capital, about 100,000 people attended a communist party rally and were urged to give "top priority to military affairs as the maxim of their life," KCNA said in a report that could not be independently verified.

BADHDAD, Iraq — U.N. arms experts took to the air today in their search for evidence of banned weapons, using helicopters for the first time as they began their seventh week in Iraq.

Western journalists were told they could not cover the take-off of the U.N. helicopters since it was from a military base, but the Arabic satellite TV channel Al-Jazeera showed white U.N. helicopters lifting off from Baghdad's Al-Rashid military air base. It said three U.N. aircraft were tailed by two military choppers carrying the Iraqi liaison officers who work with the inspectors.

The helicopters were said to be making an aerial survey, but U.N. officials have said the choppers also would make it easier to swoop down on potential weapons sites.

Today, Iraq's official newspapers reacted with skepticism to President Bush's latest statement suggesting war was not inevitable. Bush said Monday that Saddam has still "got time" to eliminate all chemical, biological and nuclear weapons and long-range rockets.

The daily Al-Iraq said it was too early to say whether Bush's statement represented "a change or a deception." But it added the U.S. Administration "may have discovered, even if it is late, that any aggression on our homeland will be costly.'

NEWYORK—Republicans say bringing their 2004 convention to New York will give the party a new advantage in the Democratic stronghold and provide a lift to a city recovering from the 2001 terrorist attacks.

The GOP announced on Monday that New York would host its first Republican national convention in 2004. The party also had considered New Orleans and Tampa, Fla.

Republicans say the choice sends a message about the 2004 presidential race.

"I think what they're saying here is that 'We believe George Bush can carry New York State,"' said Republican strategist Jay Severin.

Other party insiders say the convention will bring a much-needed boost to the city as it moves past the terrorist attacks that killed 2,800 people.

"I think this is good for New York and I think symbolically important, too, that the president is coming back to the place where the country was attacked," said Kieran Mahoney, a Republican strategist. "Past political considerations, it to quickly quiet Democratic critisends the right message."

LOS ANGELES — Strong wind raked Southern California again, fanning wildfires across Malibu hillsides, overturning trucks, and toppling trees and power poles.

The dancer, Sherry Murphy, has child endangerment and could face more serious charges in the case of 7-year-old Faheem Williams, whose death has been characterized by prosecutors as a homicide.

The grisly case began to unfold Saturday, when Faheem's twin brother, Raheem, and another brother, Tyrone, 4, were found in a basement room in Murphy's twostory Newark rowhouse.

One of the boys said at the hospital that his brother had been missing for weeks. That led police to Faheem's body, stuffed in a

WASHINGTON — The 108th Congress is commencing with Republicans at the helm on both sides of the Capitol hoping to swiftly pass a 13-week extension of unemployment benefits so they can shift their focus to President Bush's plan for stimulating the economy and overdue budget bills.

With Bill Frist of Tennessee poised for his first day as Senate majority leader, Republicans planned to begin Senate debate on the jobless assistance package on today and hoped to finish by Thursday. House passage could come Wednesday, reflecting a GOP desire cism that Republicans have ignored victims of the struggling economy.

Democrats complained that the GOP plan was too skimpy and were preparing alternatives that would last longer and cover more people, raising questions about quick enactment.

NEW YORK — A self-imposed deadline on a genetic testing decision has passed for a company that claims to have produced the first human clone. Still, there's been no DNA proof, and no baby is forthcoming.

The journalist who said he would oversee DNA testing to verify the company's claim said Monday he has abandoned the effort and could not rule out the possibility of "an elaborate hoax.'

Officials with Clonaid, the company that announced the birth of the world's first clone on Dec. 27, first promised DNA testing, then backed off. Clonaid said the parents of the 7-pound baby girl have refused to

"We virtually ceded the terrorism and Iraq issue, and then we didn't make the case on the tax cut because some Democrats had voted for it," Cuomo said in an interview. "You didn't make a really strong case on the domestic issues. Those domestic issues gave Al Gore more votes than George Bush. We could have done that again but we walked away from the issues."

Cuomo was beginning a series of speeches on the Democrats' future with a nationally broadcast luncheon address at the National Press Club today.
