LONDON — Police arrested seven terror suspects early today after raiding a north London mosque in an operation linked to the recent discovery of the deadly poison ricin, police said.

Witnesses said about 150 police officers, some armed while others carried ladders and battering rams, took part in the raid on the North London Central Mosque and two neighboring houses. Two helicopters shone spotlights on the mosque and houses.

Seven people were arrested under the Terrorism Act 2000 and taken to a London police station, a spokesman for the Metropolitan Police said on condition of anonymity.

"The operation is part of ongoing and extensive inquiries by the Metropolitan Police's Anti-Terrorist Branch into alleged terrorist activity in London and elsewhere in the U.K.," he said.

CARACAS, Venezuela — Calling his adversaries "terrorists," President Hugo Chavez has warned the government could walk out of negotiations with leaders of the seven-week general strike intended to force him from office.

In his weekly television call-in show Sunday, Chavez accused strike leaders of "generating chaos, denying the country water and food" as a way to provoke a coup.

"We are carefully evaluating the possibility that our representatives will leave the (negotiating) table," Chavez said. "We don't talk with terrorists."

Negotiations sponsored by the Organization of American States began in November but have failed to resolve the situation. Six countries—Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Portugal, Spain and the United States — have begun an initiative called "Friends of Venezuela" to help the talks. Chavez and the opposition have both welcomed the "Friends" initiative

A combination of political parties, business leaders and labor unions called the strike on Dec. 2 to pressure Chavez to resign or call early elections if he loses a Feb. 2 referendum on his rule.
