Helper needs to back off on homework

DEAR ABBY: I am in middle school and have been helping my friend, "Heidi," with her schoolwork. When Heidi first asked for help, I didn't mind. But now she BOYWITHABIGPROBLEMON expects me to do all her assignments.

Yesterday after school, I tried to off to talk to friends. Abby, I don't her assignment, the responsibility is

want to help someone who doesn't make an effort, but I feel responsible because Heidi's grades are falling fast. What should I do? — HIS HANDS

DEAR BOY: First of all, stop shouldering burdens that are not help Heidi with her homework in your own. If your friend fails a subhers—not yours. It was kind of you we could get high for free. Selling to try to share your own good study habits with your friend. But the time has come for her to take what you have taught her and fly on her own.

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to warn "Afraid in Calgary, Canada," about what she's in for. She's the woman who was scared because her husband is manufacturing an illegal drug

Two years ago, my boyfriend, "Otis," and I were turned on to methamphetamine by an "old friend." It quickly consumed our lives. We suddenly became parathe library, but she kept wandering ject because she has not completed noid and no longer trusted each led Otis to manufacturing it himself all for free drugs and easy money

I left Otis because I knew what he was doing was wrong. However, three months later — after he promised that he had quit using, selling and manufacturing — I returned. The temptation was too great. We both got hooked again. Otis was raking in the dough, and he kept kidding himself, saying he'd only make and sell it "one more time" or until he saved a big enough nest egg. It was never enough. I told him no amount of money would be worth other. Soon we began selling it so it if we were caught, and I was right. Otis' teenage daughter is now ridi-

It wasn't.

So far, we've paid our lawyer $16,000 plus $10,000 for my bail money. We've lost $13,000 in confiscated cash, and Otis' children refuse to speak to him or visit him in jail. Otis faces 120 years in prison. I was arrested just for being in his home. I'm charged with five felonies and could also get a long prison sentence.

Abby, it may seem hard to believe, but Otis and I are decent people. He is a wonderful father. But because of weakness and greed, we have lost everything, including the respect of friends and family.

culed and picked on every day at school. "Afraid," if you are reading this, please INSIST that your husband stop manufacturing and selling drugs. If you need money, take a second job. You may not have all the money you think you need, but you'll still have your family, your life and your freedom. We don't. — IN A BIND/OUT ON BOND

DEAR OUT ON BOND: Thank you for an important letter. Drugs are prevalent. Temptation is great. I hope your experience will serve as a warning to those who need one. What happened to you can easily happen to them.
