

New books, cassettes and compact disks arrive at Goodland library

The Goodland Public Library has the following new books, cassettes and compact disks as of Dec. 1:

In adult fiction, “The Five People You Meet in Heaven,” by Mitch Albom; “Full Cry,” by Rita Mae Brown; “The Hornet’s Nest,” by Jimmy Carter; “The Firefly,” by Peter Deutermann; “Holly,” by Judy Deveraux.

“Cry No More,” by Linda Howard; “Wolves of the Calla,” by Stephen King; “The Tristan Betrayal,” by Robert Ludlum; “By Sorrow’s River,” by Larry McMurtry.

“Love,” by Toni Morrison; “Blood Canticle,” by Anne Rice; “Key of Knowledge,” by Nora Roberts; “The Hanged Man’s Song,” by John Sandford; “The Red Hat Club,” by Haywood Smith; “Safe Harbour,” by Danielle Steele; “The Christmas Blessing,” by Donna VanLiere; “The Kill Fee,” by Laura Van Wormer.

In adult non-fiction: “World Almanac and Book of Facts — 2004 edition;” “J.K. Lasser’s Your Income Tax — 2004 edition;” “U.S. Master Tax Guide — 2004 edition;” “Ultimate College Directory, by U.S. News and World Report — 2004 edition;” “Reference Atlas to the Birds of North America,” by National Geographic.

“Physician’s Desk Reference — 2004 edition;” “Complete Guide to Prescription and Non-prescription Drugs — 2004 edition;” “What Color is Your Parachute?” by Richard N. Bolles — 2004 edition; “Knock ‘em Dead,” by Martin Yate — 2004 edition.

“The Complete Idiot’s Guide to Accounting,” by Lita Epstein; “Small Business for Dummies,” by Eric Tyson; “I Am What I Ate . . . and I’m Frightened,” by Bill Cosby; “Safari,” by Molly Buchanan and National Geographic; “National Geographic Almanac of World History;” “The President’s House,” by Margaret Truman.

“A View From the Heartland,” by David Chartrand; “Bringing Elizabeth Home,” by Ed and Lois Smart; and “Sea of Glory,” by Nat Philbrick.

In children’s books, “A League of His Own,” by Michael Jan Friedman (Justice League); “Arthur and the Bad-Luck Brain,” by Stephen Krensky; “Nothin’ But Net,” by Paul Mantell.

“Panda Bear, Panda Bear, What Do You See?” by Bill Martin; “Rock-and-Roll Bob,” by Kim Ostrow; “Henry and Mudge and the Wild Goose Chase,” by Cynthia Rylant; “Moment of Truth (Star Wars — Jedi Quest),” by Jude Watson.

“Butterfly Battle (Magic School Bus Science Chapter Book),” by

Nancy White; “Niagara Falls, Or Does It?” by Henry Winkler; “Batman’s Guide to Crime and Detection,” by Michael Teitelbaum; “How Science Works,” by Judith Hann; “Superman’s Guide to the Universe,” by Jackie Gaff; and “Baseball,” James Kelley.

In audio books, “The Hornet’s Nest,” by Jimmy Carter (CD); “A.B.C. Murders,” by Agatha Christie (CD); “Blowfly,” by Patricia Cornwell (CD); “Cry No More,” by Linda Howard (CD); “Pursuit of the Mountain Man,” by William Johnstone (AC); “Shepherds Abiding,” by Jan Karon (CD); “Tristan Betrayal,” by Robert Ludlum (CD).

“By Sorrow’s River,” by Larry McMurtry (CD); “Fire Flight,” by John Nance (AC); “The Last Days,” by Joel Rosenburg (AC); “Safe Harbour,” by Danielle Steele (CD); “The Christmas Blessing,” by Donna VanLiere (CD); and “Bringing Elizabeth Home,” by Ed and Lois Smart (CD).

club news

The Goodland Federated Music Club met at 6 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 7, at the Carnegie Arts Center.

President Eva Lou Selby called the meeting to order and led the club members in singing the state and national theme songs. They also sang the hymn of the month, “Hark! the Herald Angels Sing,” words by Charles Wesley and music by Felix Mendelssohn. The singing was accompanied by Nancy Shores.

Birkley Barnes called the roll. Eight members were present: Barnes, Martha Gunderson, Carol Jolly, Linda Koons, Linda Lucas, Eva Lou Selby, Nancy Shores and Isabelle Hellerud. Six members were absent: Jan Malpert, Marlyn Mangus, Sammie Mills, Joanna Norris Grimshaw, Sharon Palmquist and Pat Schiefen.

Lucas announced the program and began by reading “The Night Before Christmas,” by Clement Clarke Moore, noting the contrast in the appearance of Santa in the early book and later illustrations.

Shores played two songs on the piano, “Skating in Central Park” and “Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas,” both arranged by Jim Brickman.

Shores and Selby played a piano duet, “Silent Night,” arranged by E. Edwin Cerie and F.A. Schiefelbein.

Selby set out golden crystal goblets filled with various amounts of water to be played by striking with silver spoons. She invited the members to play. With a few “misklinks,” the ladies tolled “Joy to the World” and “The First Noel.”

The program concluded with the singing of Christmas carols from very old hymnals provided by Jolly. Lucas led the singing, and Jolly accompanied.

Following the program, Selby conducted a short business meeting. In the absence of the secretary, Barnes took the minutes. No minutes were available from the past meeting.

Jolly gave the treasurer’s report. Shores moved, and Gunderson seconded the motion to accept the report. The motion passed.

Barnes moved, and Shores seconded the motion to adjourn. The motion passed.

Christmas gifts were exchanged followed by a light potluck supper accompanied by hot spiced cider. Hostesses were Gunderson and Shores.

The next meeting will be Monday, Jan. 5, at the arts center. The theme is “Beatnik Night in San Francisco.” Everyone should bring a percussion instrument to accompany poetry reading. Hostesses at the next meeting will be Birkley Barnes and Linda Koons.

matters of record

District Traffic

The following fines were paid in the Sherman County District Court:

Nov. 20 — Kristin V. Magnuson, 18, Lenexa, was fined $213 for speeding, 97/70.

Nov. 21 — Nicole A. Briggs, 18, Louisville, Colo., was fined $300 for speeding, 104/70.

Tony L. Gore, 43, Oklahoma City, was fined $240 for speeding in a construction zone, 80/60.

Rudy Pena, 25, Goodland, was fined $160 for target practicing on department lands.

Nov. 25 — Kenneth J. Klemm, 41, Goodland, was fined $159 for speeding, 86/65.

SBC: Celebrating More than a Century of Service in Kansas

Beyond yesterday’s party lines and rotary phones to today’s broadband benefits and satellite entertainment options, SBC Kansas looks forward to providing another century’s worth of innovation in telecommunications technology to the citizens of Goodland.

Pending approval from the Kansas Corporation Commission, broadband capabilities will soon be available in Goodland. We’re committed to expanding broadband to 81 mostly rural Kansas communities by year-end 2004 so that you can begin enjoying the benefits of high-speed Internet access.

The benefits of broadband technology for rural Kansans are nearly endless. Whether it’s a student going online to access an interactive lecture from a university hundreds of miles away, a rural physician sharing x-rays or a sonogram in real time with a consulting specialist at a metropolitan hospital or a small business owner hoping to expand into the global marketplace, dependable broadband access is a vital component in their success.

SBC Kansas has invested more than $170 million in infrastructure improvements to deliver high-speed access to more Kansans and stimulate local economic growth to keep Kansas competitive.

We are proud to bring high-quality phone and data services to our family, friends and neighbors, and we appreciate our connection with the Goodland community for the past 100 years.

Darin Miller
Director, External Affairs

