

Old motel comes down

Goody's, owned by Mike Yarger, began demolition of the K-Inn at Business U.S. 24 and Cherry last week. City Building Inspector Steve Criswell said it appeared about a third of the motel had been demolished by Monday, and the contract calls for the project to be completed by the first of June.

Slice of Life benefit auction has 'stars' theme

three winners, and women's teams in "Malady," (m'lady).

Teams bid at the auction on celebrity guests to join them for the golf tournament. Golfers must be 21 to participate.

There will be team and special prizes, door prizes and hole-in-one prizes, McCants said. For one designated hole, the prize will be $10,000, $5,000 to the golfer and $5,000 to the foundation.

The event has been known for bringing star athletes to town, and this year is no exception. About 20 former Denver Broncos, Kansas City Chiefs, Harlem Globetrotters, gold medalists and other stars had confirmed by last week, McCants said.

Autographed sports, movie and television memorabilia, a bronze sculpture and resort trips are among the items for sale at the auction.

Former Broncos include Larry Brunson, Jack Gehrke, Charley Johnson, Fran Lynch, Ted McKnight, Leroy Mitchell, Dave Preston and Billy Thompson. Ex-Chiefs Dave Lindstrom, Larry Marshall, Tony Reed, Art Still and Walter White will walk the red carpet.

Also planning to attend, McCants said, are former Denver Nugget Walter Davis; former Dallas Cowboy Wade Manning; Mel Pender, a gold medalist in track; former Harlem Globetrotter Gator Rivers, Isaac "Bud" Stallworth, a former University of Kansas Jayhawk and Utah Jazz basketball star; and Josh Vignery, an actor and son of Ron and Judi Vignery of Goodland.

Items for sale at the auction include resort trips; a bronze sculpture of an aerobatic plane from Art Castings of Colorado; tickets to Busch and Nextell Cup races at the Kansas Speedway; NFL and NBA autographed memorabilia; a football autographed by former Broncos quarterback John Elway; a University of Kansas basketball, autographed by the team; a Priest Holms helmet; a Michael Jordan White Sox jersey; a Chicago White Sox world series champ jersey, signed by the team; a Dwight Clark "The Catch" signed photograph on canvas; an autographed Annika Sorenstam cap; signed movie memorabilia, including items signed by Vince Vaughn, Ben Stiller and Owen Wilson; Desperate Housewives oven mitts signed by the cast; tickets to NBA and NFL games; movie items; and various movie posters.

The sculpture is in honor of Ken Stout, who always flew over the Slice of Life event in his Super Decathlon plane, McCants said, accenting his aerobatic show with smoke, music, precision, excitement and grace. He died in January, leaving his wife Sue and two daughters Suzanne and Rebecca. He was a Goodland native but had lived in Woodbine, where he was the chief executive officer of the Citizens State Bank and Trust Co. and S & D Performance Management.
