

Terry Hubble (45 at left) was pushed into the berm by John Brown (8-11) and Bryant Nemecheck (06) while in the background Neal Thornburg (26) prepared to take a side shot to force Hubble further into the berm and out of the second heat at the Kiwanis Demolition Derby on Friday. D.J. Baehler (17) got squeezed between Tim Gittinger (00) and Blake Saint (55) while Derek Fenner (38) rammed his front end during the first heat. Baehler survived to finish second in the main event.

Smashin', crashin' derby thrills crowd Friday night

By Tom Betz

Nine cars entered the arena for the Kiwanis Demo Derby main event on Friday, and as the numbers dwindled, one driver backed across the arena, then raced ahead to smash another car so hard it hooked the two together.

The judges had to be called in and a tractor brought in to separate the two cars, but neither could move and their engines were dead.

The judges decided the winner was Neal

Thornburg (26 car) of Goodland, who took the long charge across the arena to smash into D.J. Baehler (17). Third place went to Terry Hubble (45), and the crowd pleaser award went to Andrew Drennan (3X) of Goodland.

Kiwanis announcer Jeff Mason introduced 13 drivers, but when the cars lined up in front of the arena only 12 managed to make it, as Brandon Linden's car (333) refused to start.

The cars were divided into two heats, with three from each heat advancing to the main event. All the other cars were given a second chance to make it by being one of three left in a "slop heat" of drivers eliminated from the first two.

Winners in the first heat were Drennan (3X), Tim Gittinger (00) and Baehler. Winners in the second round were John Brown (8-11), Thornburg and Marshal Hoppe (11).

Moving into the main from the slop heat were T.J. Yarger (14), Hubble and Tod Barnett (3T).

Mason said it was good to see the two top drivers get out of their cars and shake hands.

"I was glad they showed good sportsmanship, and could show the kids that they had fun and were able to enjoy the spirit of the evening," he said.

The Goodland lawyer and Kiwanis member said the club sponsors the Hamburger Shack and Demo Derby at the fair to make money for its community projects.

He said the club, chartered in 1949, last year gave over $5,000 in scholarships to Goodland High School graduates and to students attending the Northwest Kansas Technical College.

Kiwanis provided about $15,000 in financial help to Goodland schools and their clubs and organizations. Genesis, the Carnegie Arts Center, Goodland Library Summer Reading Program, Project Graduation and many other community projects, he said.

"Kiwanis thanks the community for its generous support," Mason said. "Without the support of the Kiwanis Hamburger shack and Demo Derby, the Club could not do what it does for the community."

Fort Hays State football team kicks off against Western State

The fall season for college sports in western Kansas kicks off in less than three weeks when Fort Hays State University takes on Western State College of Gunnison, Colo., in football Saturday, Aug. 25, in Hays.

The last time the Tigers played Western State was during the 2005 season, when the visiting Mountaineers won 26-14. Western State finished last season 3-8 overall and 2-6 in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference.

Kickoff is set for 6 p.m. (Mountain Time) at Lewis Field Stadium.

Fort Hays State went 1-10 last season and 1-8 in its first year in the Mid-America Athletics Association. The Tigers were picked to finish ninth in last week's preseason poll by the conferences' coaches.

The Fort Hays volleyball team opens its season on Friday, Aug. 24, in Memphis, Tenn., at the Christian Brothers University Tournament. The first home match for the Lady Tigers will be on Sept 4 against Newman University at Gross Memorial Coliseum in Hays.

Fort Hays was 3-25 overall last year and 1-12 in conference play. The Lady Tigers also were picked ninth in the volleyball coaches' preseason poll.

The men's and women's cross country teams will begin their season with the annual Kentucky Fried Chicken Alumni/Varsity run on Sept. 1. Six days later, the teams will travel west to compete in the Colby Invitational.

The Tiger men were picked third and the women fifth in preseason polls. Just eight of the conference's 10 schools run cross country.

Washburn University's Lady Blues were picked to win the conference title in soccer this fall. Washburn won its first conference soccer crown last season, breaking a seven-season run by Missouri's Truman State. Fort Hays State and Pittsburg State do not compete in women's soccer.

Bethel College Threshers open against Kansas Wesleyan Coyotes

Weskan native Beau Cox begins his third season of college football next month as the Threshers of Bethel College open against Kansas Wesleyan University in Salina.

Cox, the Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference's offensive player of the year in his sophomore season last year, helped lead the Threshers to a 9-2 season and a spot in the national playoffs. He earned conference offensive player of the week honors three times.

Sept. 9, in his first start, Cox rushed for 197 yards against Southwestern College and scored all three of Bethel's touchdowns, two rushing and the other on a pass reception.

Oct. 21, he rushed for 199 yards and a touchdown against the University of St. Mary, then a week later he rushed for 132 yards against Wesleyan, leading Bethel to a 10-3 win while handing the Coyotes their first loss.

Beau, a 2005 graduate of Weskan High, is the son of Tracy and Shelly Cox of Weskan. During his senior year, he was first team All-Western Kansas Liberty League pick at both running back and defensive back and was also an all-league pick in basketball.

An engineering major, he is entering his junior year at Bethel.

The Threshers were picked to finish third in conference media and coaches' preseason polls released Friday in Wichita. The Falcons of Friends University were picked to win the conference in both.

The Wesleyan Coyotes ranked second in both, with Sterling College fourth and Tabor College fifth.

The Bulldogs of McPherson were sixth in the coaches poll, with Ottawa University seventh. Their positions were reversed in the writers' poll.

Both polls agreed in the final three spots, with Southwestern picked eighth, followed by St. Mary and Bethany College.
