year letter winner; Kaitlin Fugleberg, who has played for two years and lettered one; and Sandra Redlin and Kathy Wood, who have competed and lettered one year each.

Rounding out the squad are returning sophomores Nico Wallis and Heidi Lawson.

There are no complainers on the squad, Hansen said; they're all good kids and work hard. The main thing is to improve as the year goes on and be competitive.

There have been some changes in the schedule this year, the coach said; the team will compete at Colby only once, not twice as in years past. The girls will compete at Ulysses and Russell, he said, which will be new. There were only seven varsity matches last year, but there will be eight this year.

Webster and Fugleberg are the only ones on the team with a lot of varsity experience, Hansen said, but thankfully, the other schools graduated their seniors too. With all the girls being underclassmen, he said, it bodes well for the future.

Cross Country Teams
The Goodland High Cross Country teams got off to a fast start with the annual Goodland Invitational on Thursday at Sugar Hills Golf Club west of town.

Coach Richard Schwasinger said he expects 10 teams: Colby, Ulysses, Lakin, Oakley, Quinter, Scott City and Goodland from Kansas and Ogallala, Grant and Imperial from Nebraska.

Schwasinger said he feels the Cowboys will be in the middle of the pack with two returning seniors, Dustin Pennington in his fourth year and Chris Geeseka in his third year; two juniors, Dallas Price and Bryan Gray, both in their second year; and Ben Waugh, a returning sophomore.

New members of the Cowboys include junior Justin Verlinden, exchange student Martin Stadelmann from Switzerland and freshmen Michael Pettibone, Talison Crosby and Steven Buller.

The Cowgirls are a few runners short of having a full team, Schwasinger said, but he has two returning girls, Cassie Cooper, in her third year of cross country, and Brittney Medrano, in her second year. Added this year are junior Savannah Schlink and freshman Kaitlyn Lammers.
