

Fans brave wind, cold for second race

The wind was blowing about 50 mph from the north keeping the temperatures down Saturday, but a small crowd of dedicated fans braved the weather to watch the second weekend of racing at the Sherman County Speedway.

About 60 cars showed up to race including a group from Colorado with the BST (blood, sweat and tears) International Motor Contest Association race for season points.

The econo class has grown this year with some new drivers, and there was some excitement with yellow flags as Alex West of Goodland broke an axle and Cody Pancake of Sharon Springs got tangled with Adrienne West of Goodland. Pancake finished second, but was disqualified.

Adrienne West, senior at Goodland High School will graduate on Saturday.

Donovan Nichols of Goodland was the winner in the econo main.

Josh Frecks of Stratton took the mini stock main over Tyrel Smith of Goodland. The two renewed their battle from last year when Smith was the track champion in the mini class.

Jeremy Wagner of Kensington was the winner in the hobby stock class main.

Colby's Jeff Tubbs (37) and Lamar, Colo.'s Darren DeLoach (21) went through turn one during the hot laps for the modified cars before the races on Saturday, May 10. DeLoach finished fifth and Tubbs was ninth in the modified main. The races continue at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday.

Travis Sherfish of WaKeeney won the stock class main.

In the modified main Mark Zorn of Russell was the winner with BST driver Will Brack of Mead, Colo. coming in second.

Last year's track champion Darren DeLoach of Lamar, Colo., was fourth, and Nick Tubbs and Jeff Tubbs of Colby finished eighth and ninth.

The next races will be Saturday, May 24, with the races beginning at 6:30 p.m. The pits open about 3 p.m. and hot laps begin about 5:30 p.m.
