

Carpets going into Baptist Church

Bob Rohr was putting down tack strip in preparation to lay carpet at the First Baptist Church's new location at the former Alco store on Main Avenue. The church hopes to be holding services there in the near future.

Board member Amy Sederstrom moved the district use bright gold. The board voted unanimously in favor of using bright gold. Board member Philbrick said the intention was not to go out and buy new uniforms but to phase it in as uniforms are replaced.

Smith said there will still be some variation in the color of gold depending on which company the district buys from.

Central Elementary School Principal Harvey Swager gave Central's presentation on what it was doing to help the district meet annual yearly progress goals. Swager said Central made the goal set by the state in math and reading for last year. He said the school had not made the goal for at least three years. The goal was 75.6 percent in reading and 73.4 percent in math.

Swager said the instructors had been concentrating on the key points of text structure, main ideas and details, number stories and measurements used on the state assessment tests. He said they were making sure the students knew the terminology that was used on the test.

School Board President Chuck Wilkens said the board appreciated everyone's efforts.
