

Colby wins tournament at Sugar Hills Golf Club

The Cowgirls finished fifth at their Invitational Tournament on Tuesday at Sugar Hills Golf Club and Colby Lady Eagles were the winners.

Seven schools had teams at the tournament including Ulysses that finished second, Dundy County was third, Syracuse was fourth, Hays Thomas More Prep sixth and Hugoton did not have enough players to have a team score.

“I am pleased with the progress the team is making,” said Coach Connie Livengood. “We have had some pars and birdies already, but need to be more consistent all though the tournament.

“The potential of the girls is there, but the consistency is not. That will come with time and practice.”

Jazzmin Weis again led our team with a 98, Livengood said. “I think she knows she can do better, but she is trying some new things and clubs, and I believe later on with a little more practice she will do a lot better.”

Jacquelynn Gulley had a personal best for her career with a 111, and I am happy for her, the coach said. “She knows she too can improve on the scoring.”

Katelyn Coon had a good day with a personal best score of 115.

Cortney Cowan had a personal best 18 hole tourney and it was her first varsity tournament with at 123.

Jordan Knitig had a hard time on the front side with a 68, Coach Livengood said. “I feel she did a good job for her first tournament. She had a tremendous back nine score of 53 and she chipped one in for a birdie. That is pretty good considering she has only played for three weeks.

Sam Goalden had some good holes and some bad holes finishing with a 139 Livengood said. She knows she can improve.

Junior Varsity

In the junior varsity 9 hole division, Sam Siruta shot a 59, good enough for a Second place medal and she improved her overall strokes from last weeks tournament.

She now knows what to expect.

Michaela Garrett did a good job in improving her score by more than 10 strokes with a 60. She knows she can improve more.

Carly McCracken did a good job in her first tournament with a 69.

She chipped one in for a par. That is exciting.

Miranda Hernandez 75, Brooke Lockhardt 78, Trace Waugh 79, and Elizabeth Wellman 81, all did a good job for their first tournament.

“There are a lot of good things that happened today,” Livengood said, “and it tells me there is potential for this team to keep on improving. It was fun watching them golf.

“We had great weather and the girls did a great job getting the tournament finished before dark.”

The Cowgirls varsity volleyball played their first set against Thomas More Prep-Marian at Hays on Tuesday at their home quad at Max Jones Fieldhouse. Jennifer Rome (No. 6) served a ball at the game. The Cowgirls won 25-15 and 25-10. The team of Rome (No. 6), Taryn Bedore (No. 4), Ashley Archer (No. 5), Jade Herl (No. 8), M'Lynn Hinger (No. 14) and Berkley White (No. 24) got ready to return a serve in that game.

Cowgirls win matches in season opening quad

The Cowgirl volleyball team saw its first action in a home quad on Tuesday with Burlington High School, Hays High School and Thomas More Prep-Marian of Hays.

The Cowgirls beat Thomas More Prep-Marian 25-15 and 25-10 in their first set. The Cowgirls got a break and then had back-to-back sets with Hays High and Burlington High School.

They beat Hays High 25-23, 19-25 and 25-20. The Cowgirls turned around and played Burlington losing 2-25 and 14-25.

“The team played pretty well except with Burlington,” said Coach Barb Bedore. They had a let down after the victory with Hays High.

Coach Bedore said she thought they played pretty well at their first quad. The other teams had already played.

The next action for the team is on Saturday at Machebeuf High School in Denver. On Tuesday they will be at the Lakin Quad.

“Not a bad start,” said Coach Bedore.
