

Bike games show riding skills, provide fun

Randy Knox, Jr., (above) got an involuntary water bath Saturday when Sheena Knox, of Burlington, smashed a water balloon over his head during the bike games held behind Bankwest. Randy and Sheena (below) had previously won the ring toss event with a perfect six for six.

Jared and Angela Enfield of Goodland were second in the tennis ball on cone event getting three of the six.

Greg Drew and Michele Bachmann of Denver laughed when he dropped his foot in the ring toss as it eliminated them from that event. The pair had been the winners in the tennis ball drop event earlier.

Randy and Nikki Knox of Burlington (left) were the winner in the water balloon toss when Nikki was able to toss and catch two balloons without breaking one. She held the two winning balloons for luck after they won the event.
