

Day planned for women in Rexford

The Third Annual Women in Denim Event: Finding your True Colors will be on Oct. 3, at The Shephard's Staff Christian Conference and Retreat Center in Rexford. The event is given by the Northwest Kansas Conservation and Environmental Alliance.

The following sessions will be presented throughout this fun filled day for women only.

"Your True Colors, Are Like a Rainbow" — Cyndi Lauper, could not be further from the truth. The True Colors session will be facilitated by Libby Curry, Extension Specialist at Kansas State University. She is a trained facilitator for True Colors International. During this session, you will be learning to identify your own personality style by way of color.

By learning more about your personality and the personalities of others it will help give you insight into the differences of others. For more information on True Colors, visit <http://true-colors.com/content.php>.

Are there words left unspoken at home? Do you feel like your opinion is not always heard? Let us talk about it with Charlotte Shoup-Olsen, professor and extension specialist, from the School of Family Studies and Human Services at Kansas State University.

This session will be on communication styles and hot to effectively communicate with our spouse, children and other family members while helping to manage the farm. For more information go to <http://www.he.k-state.edu/directory/colsen/>.

You have worked hard to build a sturdy foundation for your family and for generations to come. Have you taken the time to do your estate planning and preserve the dynasty your family and you have worked so hard to build? Stacey Siebel, Attorney at Law from Hays, comes from a long line of farmers and ranchers. She specializes in estate planning and understands the importance and impact proper estate planning can have as assets are being passed from generation to generation.

During this session, she will be sharing her mission to help others preserve their hard earned assets by using various estate planning tools. For more information go to <http://seibel-law.com/>.

Bring your apron and hear about days gone by through the eyes of Linea Martin of Herndon and her Apron Strings. She will be sharing stories behind various styles of aprons through the years.

Not only will this session pull at your heart strings, but it will also give you an opportunity to share your own favorite memory of a time you helped your mother bake bread while in that special apron or the time you shared that secret family recipe with your daughter or granddaughter.

Be sure to bring your apron and share your story.

Since you have your apron already on, it is time to get to work in the kitchen. Melinda Daily, extension specialist for Wallace County Extension office, will be spicing things up with a hands-on demonstration on making homemade salsa. You will be able to go home with fresh salsa and a recipe to use with garden fresh vegetables. Oh, it will be so good!

First concrete then bricks

Using machines and good old-fashioned effort, work crews poured and smoothed out a concrete base on half of the block of Main Avenue between 11th and 12th Streets. The contractor planned to pour the second half of the concrete base today, with brick work beginning next week. Photo by Kevin Bottrell/The Goodland Star-News
