Sport innovator grew up in Goodland

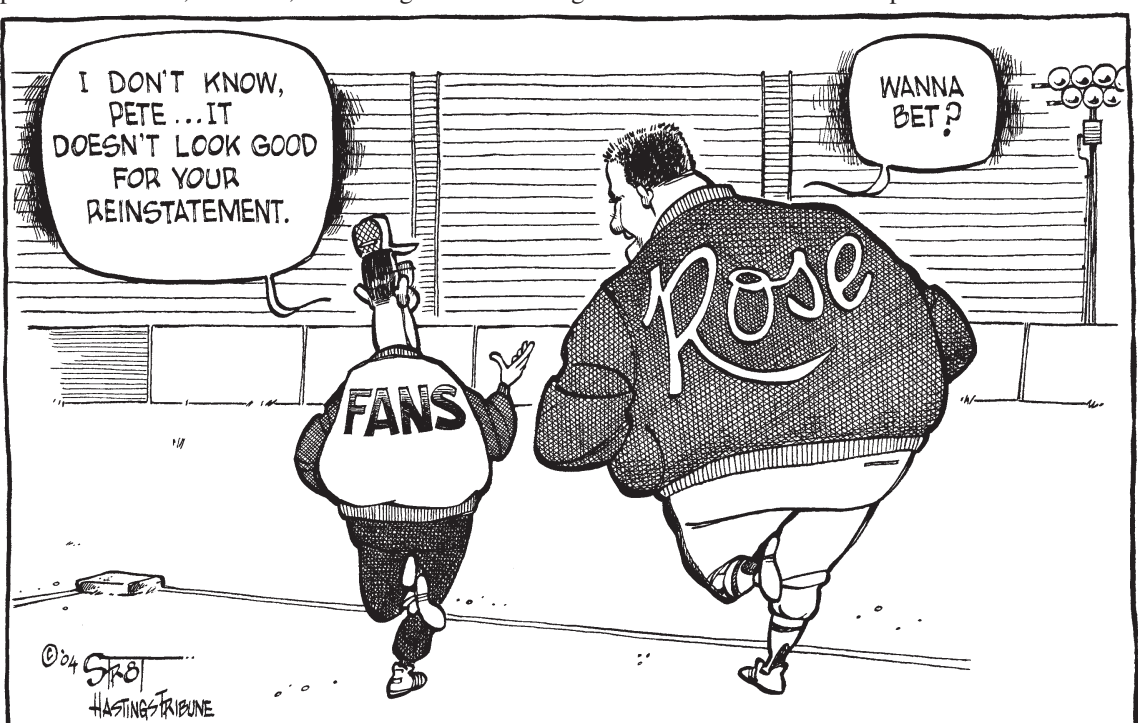

By Greg Stover
The Goodland Star-News
One of the nation's best known and innovative athletic trainers grew up in Goodland and went to establish a business dedicated to the prevention of sports injuries and help athletes heal from injuries. Garnett E. "Moose" Detty whose love of sports led him from athlete to coach to athletic trainer to inventor and respected businessman spent his formative years in Goodland before starting a journey that some may call legendary. Perhaps Detty is best known as the inventor of the neoprene rubber knee sleeve which supports and protects the knee while allowing its wearer to retain flexibility and motion. There are 17 patents established for innovations in sports medicine technology that bear Detty's name. All of which are available from Pro Orthopedic Devices of Tucson, Ariz., a firm he started in 1975 and which his eldest son, Gerry, now owns and runs. Detty was born on Jan. 9, 1921 in Oklahoma. His family moved to Goodland when he was a child where he was raised and went to school. While growing up he competed in football, baseball, wres-ting and boxing through which he developed a life-long passion for sports. Several months after graduating from Sherman Community High School in 1940 he joined the U.S. Marine Corps, later becoming the heavyweight boxing champion for the Fleet Marine Force-Pacific. During World War II he participated in the battles of Midway, Tarawa and Saipan. Severely wounded on Saipan, Detty remained stateside for the rest of the war. His decorations include the Bronze Star, Purple Heart, Good Conduct Medal, American Defense Service Medal, Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal and the World War II Victory Medal. After discharge, he attended the University of Oregon on the G.I. Bill where he played football. After graduating in 1949 with a bachelor of science degree in Optometry, he was hired as an athletic trainer and the boxing coach at the San Diego Naval Training Center. Some of the boxers he trained there qualified for the 1952 Olympic Games in Helsinki including heavyweight gold-medal winner Hayes Edward Sanders. Detty was named the 1952 Boxing Coach of the Year by the Amateur Athletic Union. That same year he earned his certification as a physical therapist from the U.S. Naval Hospital School in San Diego. In 1961 he was hired by the Philadelphia Eagles football team as an athletic trainer and soon became the head trainer. He retired from that position in 1975 which allowed him to devote more time to establish his business. In 1994 he was inducted into the National Athletic Trainers Association's Hall of Fame, the same year he retired as CEO of Pro. Detty and was inducted into the Pennsylvania Athletic Trainers' Society Hall of Fame. Detty died on Nov. 1, 2003 in Tucson at the age of 83. In his honor, the College Athletic Trainers' Society established the Moose Detty family scholarship and the National Athletic Trainers Association the G.E. "Moose" Detty Post Graduate Scholarship.

High school may add baseball

asked high school athletic director Steve Raymer to gather data about the possibility of establishing a program including the number of students interested in playing and potential scheduling problems. She also asked him to get with Dautel about a playing field and its maintenance needs. Board member Fritz Doke made the motion to table the issue until the meeting on Feb. 9. The motion was seconded by Whalen and passed 5-0. Board president Dick Short and board member Ron Schilling were absent. "I want to thank all those who stepped up to the plate and supported us by showing up at the meeting," Dautel said. "I want to emphasize this is long term support we have in Goodland that won't fade after a few seasons." Dautel said a meeting is planned for Wednesday, Feb. 4, and invited all those interested in getting a Cowboy baseball program started to come. The location will be announced later.
