Siruta to $8.50 per hour. Health Department Director Dorendo Harrel handed the commissioners three-ring binders with the county bioterrorism plan, which has been sent to the state for approval. She said that most of the plan is in place, but that she needs to develop a media committee.

A part of the plan is a nine-county mutual aid agreement with surrounding counties to help in case of a bioterrorism attack: Sherman, Wallace, Greeley, Hamilton, Kearny, Wichita, Lane, Scott and Finney. The commissioners approved the plan and the agreement.

Harrel asked the commissioners to renew the contract for Cesar Miller of Medical Arts Pharmacy as the consulting pharmacist for the health department at $80 an hour.

She said regulations require them to have a pharmacist count out medicines that come to the health department in bulk, and she consults with Miller on medication. The commissioners approved the contract.

sioners try to use a process of elimination to reduce the number from three to two. He suggested each commissioner vote for two of the three to see if that would work.

In the vote, Garcia voted for Slough and Mull. Blume voted only for Mull, and Billinger voted only for Miller.

"Well it appears we can't agree to reduce the names," Billinger said. "I think it is up to Perry."

"Is that it?" Warren asked.

The three commissioners agreed,
