Financial advisor recognized for service

A Goodland financial advisor attended a national sales and education conference for Linsco/Private Ledger in San Diego.

Kyle Gordon, who has an office at 1208 Main, was recognized for providing exceptional client service as a member of the company’s Freedom Club, which includes just 11 percent of the firm’s more than 5,600 investment professionals.

The national conference is the largest for independent investment professionals; more than 4,400 people from across the country attended.

They learned new skills and expanded their knowledge in product areas and networked with peers and industry experts. They heard from speakers and authors Stephen Covey, David Gergen and Chris Matthews.

The conference provides more than 250 breakout sessions, technology training and continuing education classes which allow financial advisors to gain knowledge to help serve their clients.

Linsco/Private Ledger has been the nation’s No. 1 independent brokerage firm for nine years based on revenues reported.

Taylor cousins meet for annual reunion

The annual Taylor Cousins Reunion was July 16-18 in Goodland.

Descendants of two Sherman County pioneer families met for a time of feasting and fellowship. Pat Kreuger, a descendant of Ira Taylor, began the gathering in 1992.

The Friday event was a golf competition at Sugar Hills Golf Club. For the second year, a Saturday noon cook-out was held on the patio of the Four Sisters Bed and Breakfast.

Most of those present lingered into the late afternoon to enjoy home-made ice cream.

A catered dinner Sunday was held at the senior center.

Cousins present were from Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming and Texas. Greetings were received from cousins in Oklahoma, Washington and Missouri who were unable to attend.

The 2005 reunion is planned for Friday-Sunday, July 15-17.

Students can compete in patriotic art contest

The Goodland Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary is holding a Patriotic Art contest for area high school students.

Students can enter patriotic artwork on paper or canvas, no smaller than eight by 10 inches and not larger than 18 by 24, not including the mat.

The deadline to enter is Friday,

April 1. Call the Patriotic Art Chair Jo Ann Wahrman at 890-3021.

Post winners will advance to the state level. The state winner receives a $200 U.S. Savings Bond and advances to the national level, where they have a chance to win $10,000 in scholarships.

Local prizes of $50 will be awarded.

Veterans of Foreign Wars seeks Voice of Democracy entries

The Goodland Veterans of Foreign Wars and its auxiliary are accepting entries in the annual Voice of Democracy Scholarship Competition.

High school students may compete in the 58th annual radio essay competition to win thousands of dollars in scholarships, a trip to Washington and dozens of other awards.

Students enter a three-to-five-minute recorded tape or compact disk on the theme “Celebrating our Veterans’ Service” to the post here by Monday, Nov. 1. For information, call Voice of Democracy Chairman Jo Ann Wahrman at 890-3021.

Post winners advance to district competition, and the nine district winners in Kansas compete at the state level. The state winner will enjoy a four-day tour of Washington along with winners from every state, the Pacific Islands, Latin America and the Caribbean and Europe.

All state winners receive at least a $1,000 national scholarship, but any one of them could win the $25,000 first-place award.

A total of $143,500 in national scholarships are awarded to finalists in addition to the scholarships and awards given at the post and district levels.

4-H news

The meeting of the Beaver Valley 4-H Club was called to order July 11 at Steever Park for a pot luck dinner.

There were 10 members, six parents and three guests. Ashley Christians gave the 4-H council report and had people sign up to make cookies for the appreciation barbecue. She also told about the bicycle rodeo that the extension office and 4-H council helped to sponsor.

Paige Phillips reported that the previous meeting’s minutes were in the paper. Leader Kim Roeder then gave her report on upcoming events and the fair.

For the program, everyone brought a project or a picture of a project and told about it. For unfi-ished business, final plans were made for the float and booth.

The meeting was then recessed for dinner. After everyone ate and played games, the meeting was called back to order, and it was decided that for the club tour, everyone would meet at the agriculture building Wednesday, Aug. 4, and would look at everyone’s projects.

The meeting was then adjourned by saying the 4-H motto.

Assistant principal left for Atwood job

By Evelyn Ward

Sherman County Historical Society
September 3, 1904: Prof C.W. McCormick left Wednesday morning for Colby and from there will take a stage for Atwood, where he will make his future home, as he has been elected principal of the Atwood high school. Mrs. McCormick and little child accompanied him.

Mr. McCormick was elected assistant principal of the Sherman County high school, but resigned to accept the Atwood school. He will have five teachers under him.

As an instructor, Prof. McCormick is well rated by those who know him best and by what the necessary qualifications are. He holds a state life certificate, and his personal self control and power to command respect among the students are exceptional.

September 4, 1904: H.M. and H.E. Elliott are building a fine house on west 10th street. It is 26x48 feet in dimensions and is a hip roofed structure with recess veranda in the northeast angle. It will be the largest one-story residence in town.

today in history

September 5, 1904: Just a few more days and Jack Frost will get in his work on the trees, shrubs and flowers. How about that picture of the house? Better ring 155 and have Greuter do the work before it is too late.

September 6, 1904: Goodland’s Lecture Course Secured by Ladies of the Round Table Club — The Round Table Club of Goodland has again contracted with the Slayton Lyceum bureaus of Chicago for a lecture course of four numbers.

Judging from the prospecti sent out, the entertainments will be worth while.

The first number, “The Byron Troubadours” will be given October 21. The Troubadours are musicians; among them are harp, violin, cornet, mandolin and piano soloists.

This will be followed, at a later date, by Dr. A. Willits, the “apostle of sunshine,” whose lectures have a lifting power on people’s minds. The third entertainment is “The Dunbar Company, Male Quartette and Bell Ringers.”

This organization is accompanied by an artist “cellist,” and the entertainment will be one of the most popular. Saving the best of the wine for the last of the feast, it has been arranged to have Lulu Tyler Gates and her company of artists end the course.

Miss Gates is assisted by Helen Carter McConnell, contralto; Marie Ludwig, harpist; H. Benne Henton, late saxophone soloist with Liberati’s and Van Osten’s band.
