Former Cowboy wrestler begins collegiate career

Former Cowboy standout Blayze Bahe began his collegiate wrestling career last weekend at the Cowboy Open in Laramie, Wyo.

Bahe, a freshman at the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley, lost a 4-2 decision to Marques Bravo of Western State College at 125 pounds in the first round of the Division II bracket. Bravo went on to win four straight matches before losing in the finals.

Blayze, the son of Randy and Kathy Bahe of Goodland, is a 2004 graduate of Goodland High School and was a four-year letter winner for the Cowboys. He was Class 4A state champion at 119 pounds in 2004.

The Bears of Northern Colorado will be in action again Sunday in the Old Chicago Northern Colorado Open, at 10 a.m. (Mountain Time) in Butler-Hancock Hall on campus.

Northern Colorado is in the second year of its four-year transition from NCAA Division II to Division I.

As a sophomore, Murray earned a 14-7 record but missed the last two months due to injury. He wrestled for Colby Community College his freshman year, finishing 34-4 and placing sixth in the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Matt, the son of Jim and Bernice Murray of Colby, is a mathematics education major. He went 138-12 as a wrestler for Colby High School, winning the state Class 4A championship at 135 pounds his senior year. He also lettered in cross country and tennis for the Eagles.

As a team, the Cornhuskers were ranked No. 3 by the Amateur Wrestling News and the coaches association, and No. 4 by the Wrestling International News. Six other Nebraska wrestlers were top-10 picks in all three polls.

The Huskers open their season today with a home dual meet against Hofstra University (N.Y.).

Lady Tigers head to Kearney, Neb., for return visit

The Fort Hays State University volleyball team will travel back to Kearney, Neb., Friday for the NCAA Division II Southwest Regional Tournament.

The women are 29-4 after finishing second at the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference post-season tournament last weekend, losing to the host University of Nebraska-Kearney 3-0 in the title match. The Lady Lopers, now 36-0, are responsible for three of Fort Hays' four losses this season.

Fort Hays is seeded No. 2 at the regional tourney, behind Nebraska-Kearney, and will face seventh-seeded Rockhurst University in its first match. The Lady Hawks, now 26-9, lost to the Tigers 3-1 on Oct. 26.

The Tigers are ranked No. 12 in the American Volleyball Coaches Association NCAA Division II poll released Tuesday. The Lopers remain the nation's No. 1 team, receiving 33 of 35 first-place votes. Rockhurst is No. 24.

Goodland athlete leads team in scoring

Sophomore Jayci Stone of Goodland averaged 14 points per game while leading the Colby Community College women's basketball team to a 5-0 start for the 2004-2005 season.

Jayci, the daughter of Dennis and Karen Stone of Goodland, is a 2003 graduate of Goodland High School, where she lettered in volleyball and track and field as well as basketball.

This is Stone's second season with the Lady Trojans. Last year, the team finished 29-4 and ranked No. 8 in the final National Junior College Athletic Association poll.

The Colby women started their season on Nov. 5 at the Ramada Roundball Classic in Sterling, Colo., against host Northeastern Junior College. Colby defeated the Plainswomen 83-80 in double overtime after trailing by five points at halftime.

Freshman Suzana Sormaz led the Trojans with 22 points, followed by Stone with 19. Stone and freshman Ivana Stojadinov each had nine rebounds.

The following day, Colby beat Casper College (Wyo.) 72-61. Stone led the team with 16 points. She and freshman Rita Kollo both grabbed eight rebounds.

Last week, the Trojans traveled to Casper for the three-day Pizza Hut Invitational. Play started Thursday with Colby whipping Sheridan College (Wyo.) 69-51. Kollo led the team with 19 points, followed by Stone with 17. Stojadinov scored 16. She and Kollo both had eight rebounds, and Stone had six.

On Friday, Colby defeated Northwest Colorado College 74-67. Stone and Kollo both had 15 points to lead the Trojans. Stone hit three of six shots from behind the three-point arc for nine of her points. Freshman Ivy Ramsey of Colby, who played for the Lady Eagles last season, hit on three of five from behind the arc for all nine of her points.

On Saturday, Colby faced the Thunderbirds of Casper for the second time this season and won another close game, 64-60. Four Trojan players scored in double figures, while Stone had just three points.

Colby is 5-0 going into tonight's action against Miles Community College (Mont.) starting at 6 p.m. (Central Time) in the Colby Community Building as part of day two of the S&T Communications Ambassador Classic. On Saturday, the Lady Trojans face the Lady Pirates of Independence Community College, same time and place.
