Goodland leaders graduate | City to clean-up

LEADERS, from Page 1a

issues and learned why some government decisions are made. "I think it should be a required class," she said. "I learned the importance of the economy of Goodland," Gillming said, "and how each business has a different piece of the puzzle."

He said one of the best experiences in the class was the time they spent at the Capper Foundation in Topeka, a center offering rehabilitation for handicapped children. Gillming said he learned about the handicapped, a group that requires representation by leaders.

"It was nice just working as a group," said Rasure, emphasizing class cooperation on the trip to Topeka. "I really liked how Sherman County came together."

Although Rasure, a native of Sherman County, said he wasn't surprised by much of what he saw in the course, he did learn a few things.

He was impressed with the size of the railroad switch yard, he said, and a trip the group took to the sewer plant was an eye-opening experience.

"It's really a good experience," said Jolly, "good exposure to all sectors of Goodland.'

He said the course opened him up sunflower oil plant.

Class learn steps to success

The 2004-2005 class of Leadership Sherman The benefits are what leaders work towards, he said, County was treated to a presentation by David L. Dar- but a clear idea of the outcomes are necessary to proling, an expert on community development and retailing. Darling, a community development economist with the Department of Agricultural Economics of Kansas State University Research and Extension, focused on the five building blocks of success. He said the blocks apply both to successful communities and individuals.

"They are designed to give leaders a formula for success," he said.

Leaders use the ideas of attitude, vision, plan, resources and benefits to achieve progress within a University of Massachusetts. He went on to Ohio community. Attitude as described by Darling, in- State University, earning a doctorate in agriculture cludes a "can do" approach to change. Vision is the economics. Now, he travels the state working to build ability of a leader to focus a team on a chosen path. Leaders construct and implement plans to change and then use available resources to move forward.

to more city issues. Having grown up in a city, Jolly said, the agricul- the school system when they visited ture day was a valuable experience Central Elementary, Grant Junior for him.

"I just liked learning about Goodland," said Greene. "We have a lot to offer.'

She said she liked learning about the county on agriculture day and visiting the Northern Sun Industries

Greene said she liked exploring High, the High School, the administration office and the Northwest Kansas Technical College.

Class members are nominated by people living or working in Sherman County and chosen by a selection committee of local lead- about Sherman County," Jolly ers. This year's class recommends added.

signing up.

"My mission is to help communities make wise decisions as they focus on the future," he said.

Each facet of the blocks, he said, could

"The successful community is well led,"

have positive or negative consequences

"I would encourage anybody to consider doing it," Goodwin said. 'It really is worthwhile."

"I would just recommend it to people who haven't done it before," Draper said.

"I'd recommend it to anyone who's interested in finding out more of the Northwest Kansas Technical College and head of the beautification committee.

CLEAN, from Page 1a

their own if they are able, Clouse said, and there are teams needed to haul for those who can't religious and civic organizations, youth groups and businesses to put together teams of volunteers, he said; it will organized into groups to pull it off.

There is no age limit for volunteers, Clouse said, except for those cleaning up the highway entrances, who must be 14 or older.

Besides hauling broken appli-People are encouraged to haul ances and old furniture, he said, the groups will be picking up lighter stuff, such as tree limbs.

Some areas of town are more The committee would like blighted than others, Clouse said; there are recliners on the front porch and such.

The committee's not trying to offend anyone, he said, but to encourprobably take 12 teams of five age everyone to take pride in Goodland, to make the town clean and orderly.

kansas classifieds

Adoption

Adoption - We're a young, hap- ALL CASH CANDY ROUTE. Do pily married couple promising to you earn $800 in a day? Your provide a warm, loving and own local candy route. Includes stable home for your baby. Expenses paid. Michele and Ted 1-866-519-6458 toll free.

Loving, financially secure farming couple wish to adopt your Become a Certified Pipe and baby. Expenses paid and confidential. Please call our adoption attorney, Allen Hazlett, 1-800-492-2011. Mike and Gina

Business Opportunity

30 Machines and Candy All for $9,995. 1-800-814-6077

Educational

MISSOURI WELDING INSTI-TUTE, INC. Nevada, Missouri. Structural Welder. Earn top pay in 18 weeks. Many companies seek our graduates. 1-800-667-5885

Chamber touts banquet success

By Kathryn Burke

The Goodland Star-News Goodland Area Chamber of Commerce board members agreed the group's annual banquet last month was a success.

At a board meeting Tuesday, Chamber Manager Courtney Warden said 104 people showed up for the annual event Thursday, Feb. 17, at the Northwest Kansas Technical College.

"We had a good turnout," she said.

The few empty tables in the room, she said, were spots set up for the entertainment, the High School jazz band and the X-Pressos show choir, but they didn't stay to eat.

"It just was a really good evening," added board member Karen Ginther.

"I think people were impressed," said board member Debbie Reed. Swager said next year's attendance new Chamber folders are ready to will show how members viewed the send out. banquet.

year," agreed Clouse, "we ought to have 200 next year."

Swager said he was disappointed more people didn't take open microphone time to recognize employees.

their own horns," she said adding they will try to encourage more at the Max Jones Fieldhouse. employee recognition for next year. successful banquet with an advertisement in The Goodland Star-News.

Swager said after a successful banquet, now is the time to approach potential members.

Darrick Leiker, membership Chamber President Donna committee co-chairman, said the Stuffed inside the folder is a list "If we had 120 or something this of benefits to Chamber membership, a list of committees, a list of member businesses and attractions in town and a recent copy of the Chamber newsletter.

In other business the board:

• Started looking ahead to the "It's a chance for people to toot Home and Garden show on Saturday, April 30, and Sunday, May 1,

The board wants to set up a booth Warden thanked everyone for the to promote downtown shops while people are in town for the show.

The booth would have coupons featuring discounts and 2-for-1 deals available only through the show.

"They're in town," said Swager.

"We should try to get them into the businesses."

Warden said it will cost the Chamber $350 for the booth and 56 30-second radio commercials.

"I think we really need to do that," said Clouse.

Board Member Dan Rasure suggested talking to show organizers or volunteering to man the show's official booth to get a better spot near the door.

"We need something up front," he said, "to get people as they come in."

• Approved Rasure's report as treasure, showing the Chamber has $6,386, plus $200 in the Sunflower Agriculture account. Warden said she made a $2,000 deposit into the Sunflower account after Rasure had looked at the reports, bringing the total up to $2,200.

Crossword Puzzle

For info: 816-676-1200 www.rjpromotions.com

School board honors wrestlers, pianists

By Kathryn Burke The Goodland Star-News

member Dick Short. Bahe, Deeds, Goodley and person.

Board president Jane Philbrick "These guys were anice bunch to told the group that seven students

Darling has been with the Extension service for 22 years, specializing is economic Darling development. He grew up in Boston and graduated from the stronger communities.

duce progress.

that leaders establish.

he said, adding that human capital, like graduates of a leadership program, is valuable to every town.

Goodland High School wrestlers and pianists got special recognition on the honor roll while wrestling. at the regular meeting of the district school board last Monday.

The wrestlers got award certificates for placing third in the state wrestling competition in Wichita last month.

Board member Ron Schilling presented the awards to Chad Normandin, Brett Bahe, Kerek Mason, A.J. Stephens, Dexter Deeds, Brett Schields, Jon Cook, Josiah Goodley, Brandon Cowan, Mark Starr and Bobby Doxon.

"It's really an honor tonight to present these awards to these wrestlers," Schilling said.

"Way to go, guys," said board

Cowan were recognized for staying

Schilling handed out an award to being named the 4A coach of the support. year.

He mentioned that former Goodland coach Rocky Welton also was honored at state.

"Goodland had a big night," he said.

The Goodland Ambassadors and the Goodland Area Chamber of Commerce got in on the celebration with candy bars and congratulations.

"One of Goodland's greatest assests is our young people," said Kathy Melia, Ambassador spokeswatch," said Schilling. "Good luck again next year."

Coach Bahe thanked the Ambaswrestling Coach Randy Bahe for sadors and the school board for their

> He congratulated the students and their teachers for working hard to raise classroom grades so they would be able to compete.

The board honored high school piano students who went to state competition this year.

qualified for state, but only six attended with five winning I ratings and one a II.

Philbrick presented awards to Nathan Brady, Grace Langness, Craig Mason, Samantha Philbrick, Jessica Lu and Lea Shores.

Brady, Philbrick and Lu were not present.

"We'd just like to congratulate you," said Melia, who gave candy to the pianists, too.

Brewster All-Star Booster Club

SCHOOL CALENDAR FOR MARCH 16 - MARCH 22

Monday - Board of Education meeting, 7 p.m.

Tuesday - Spring portrait day.

60 63 CLUES DOWN CLUES ACROSS 1. Register electronically 1. Mesa 6. Make a pig of oneself 2. Truant 3. A compact mass 10. Tropical Asian starlings 4. How go-getters go 14. Expect eagerly 5. The 7th letter of the Greek al-15. Trademark 16. The longest division of geophabet 6. Cheerlessness logical time 17. Dance 7. Give temporarily 8. Exclamation: yuck! 18. Island 19. Indo-Iranian language 9. More rocky 20. Women's magazine 10. Quite dotty 11. Leaven 21. Respectful, abbr. 22. With green cover 12. Scandinavian 24. U.S. island territory 13. Griffith, Rooney 21. Protects from weather 26. Severely simple 23. Bombastic declamation 27. Struck with fear 30. An enclosed space 25. An established custom or practice 31. To ly flat 26. Jams 32. Flat 27. A domed or vaulted recess 36. A short musical composition 37. Your general store of remem-28. Rum cut with water 29. Kong, China bered information 30. Skillfully 38. Herb that's part of lily family 32. Vigilantly attentive 39. Breakfast items 33. In addition 42. Malicious burning 43. Consisting of a single compo-34. Time of day nent 35. Shelter 44. Effulgent 40. To pay your share 45. Fix 41. Dives 47. ___ Heffner, playboy 42. Month 48. The roller on a typewriter 44. A quadrilateral sail 45. Athenian philosopher (428-49. Records electric currents 347 BC) generated by the brain 46. Green region of desert 50. Give a job to 54. A prosperous state of 47. Extremely exciting 48. A persistently annoying perwell-being Bombeck, humorist 55 son 57. Moses' elder brother (Bible) 49. An independent ruler or 58. Excite chieftan 51. Metal shackles 59. Make a sudden attack on 60. Having great dignity 52. Cause to flee 61. Throw carelessly 53. Goals 56. Blame 62. Moving quickly 57. Month CW053310 63. Perforations dine-in

carry-out

delivery

1803 Cherry Goodland, Kan. 67735 899-3661

Drs. Morrison & Wahlmeier, Colby, are pleased to announce the opening of their eyecare office in Goodland. Dr. Wahlmeier is committed to bringing professional, patient centered vision and eye health care to Goodland area patients. Beginning March 7th, Dr. Wahlmeier will be available to see patients in the Goodland office on Mondays and Wednesdays and office hours will be maintained Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Appointments may also be scheduled with Dr. Wahlmeier in the Colby office on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

 Comprehensive vision and eye health testing Two-year frame and lens warranty Guaranteed contact lens success program

Dr. Mark Wahlmeier

180 W. 6TH

Colby, Kan. 67701

785-462-8231

110 W. 10th Street Goodland, Kan. 67735 785-899-3654

CALL NOW TO SCHEDULE YOUR EYE EXAM www.eyeclinic.com