A signature and a fingerprint

Tom Betz, editor of The Goodland Star-News, signed a copy of his book, "The Fleagle Gang: Betrayed by a Fingerprint," for Penny Nemechek while her son Matthew, 18 months, looked around. Betz had a book signing at Knott Just Books on Friday, May 20, and another during the Lamar Days celebration in Lamar, Colo., that Saturday. The book tells how the fledgling federal Bureau of Identification, which became the Federal Bureau of Investigation, used a single fingerprint to track down the infamous Fleagle Gang in a 1928 bank robbery.

Kanorado booming town in 1905 By Evelyn Ward today in history

Sherman County Historical Society June 3, 1905: Kanorado News - Kanorado is improving quite rapidly. The large church building is nearly finished. — A large livery barn is also being built by C.I. Biggs. — The telephone system of Kanorado is still improving. Our line now has about 35 'phones and also a central office. — S.B. Middleton is building a new fiveroom frame house. The carpenter work is being done by John Williams and Spence Shaw of Colorado Springs. — Listen! What is that noise I hear? Oh, it is Mr. and Mrs. George Pantzer moving into their new frame house. — Mr. Darwin Hines is moving to his place in Colorado, west of town. — An ice cream and strawberry social was given by the baseball boys of this place. A large crowd was present, about $10 being made. — Wheat and barley fields are looking fine. Corn listing all done. Look out for a big crop. — Yes, land buyers are thick

June 4, 1905: Abraham Marshall, a banker of Lincoln, Kan., and since Mr. Ennis arrived there, purchased the 2/3 interest of Pete Robidoux in the ranch known as the Pete Robidoux ranch on the Smoky, mostly located in Wallace County, but with large land holdings in shed of the Chicago Lumber com-Sherman County.

Edwin Marshall and David Shirk of Lincoln were here Wednesday. Edwin Marshall is a nephew of banker Marshall and will take charge of the ranch.

June 5, 1905: William Ennis underwent an explorative operation at a Chicago hospital Sunday. Dr. Murphy, the noted surgeon of Chicago, was the surgeon in charge, and the patient is doing as well as can be expected.

He is suffering from a serious affection of the stomach. Mrs. Ennis is with her husband. Mr. Ennis went assigned a date.
