Bridge game to benefit arts

Could a "friendly" game of cards over several months.

The Goodland Arts Council Bridge Marathon will begin Friday, Oct. 7, and continue through May. Bridge players of any skill level are encouraged to participate. Find a partner and sign up.

Each player will pay a one- who signs up. help support the arts? It can when time fee of $10, with part of that it's a marathon benefit, spread out being given to the Arts Council waive rental fees for any players and the rest set aside for prize who would like to meet there in the > month. A host will be responsible year. The more players, the bigger for calling the other teams and setting up a time and place to play. Rules will be sent to each person 7301.

The Goodland Arts Center will evening. Cash prizes will be given Teams will meet and play once a to the top two teams at the end of the the prizes.

To sign up, call Joan Reid at 890-

Goodland student plays husband

A Goodland student will play a volves around Leona Crump, who instructor, Deb Bickner. Other cast role in the Colby Community College drama department's production of the comedy "Love Thy Neighbor" Thursday-Saturday,

High School graduate, and son of Rodney and Peggy Blake, will play Albert Crump in the department's production at the Cultural Arts Cen-

The play, written by Colby alumnus Gary Ray Stapp (class of 1981), is concerned about who will buy the members include Kristi Khan, house across the street and is determined to keep out the "riff-raff." Still, a family of hillbillies moves in.

Daniel Blake, a 2005 Goodland as well as Gafina's "trampy" sister Rose Bush; Challis Horinek, Gem, Bambi and amorous boyfriend as Ava/Maw; Megan Ford, St. Turner, make life unbearable for Francis, as Gafina; Josh Kenney, Leona. She vows to remove them Seward, Neb., as Turner; James from her neighborhood, with or Mason, Winston-Salem, N.C., as without the help of her couch-po- George; and Wendy Bugbee, Ulystato husband and closest neighbors. ses, as Officer Doonan.

"Love Thy Neighbor" is directed has a cast of 11. The comedy re- and designed by the college's drama pus Bookstore or at the door.

Colby, as Leona Crump; Jonathan Miller, Burlington, as Paul Harrison; Regina Heier, Colby, as Judy Obnoxious Gafina and her Maw, Harrison; Tina Schmid, Colby, as

Tickets are available at the Cam-

Gas company helps hurricane relief vides natural gas in Sherman County, is matching contributions by employees and customers dollar-for-dollar up to $500,000 to Hurricane Katrina relief efforts. The company also is providing job opportunity information to assistance agencies in the Gulf area, Missouri and Kansas that are helping hurricane victims.

"Our hearts go out to those whose lives have been changed forever by this disaster, and we want to do what we can to help them return to a more normal life," said Richard C. Green, Aquila chairman and chief execurecognized charitable organiza- state service area. tions for Hurricane Katrina relief. Aquila's matching dollars, up to a 11 contract crews from its Missouri $500,000 maximum, will go to the and Colorado electric operations to American Red Cross. To qualify for help restore power in the Gulf area. the match, contributors can fax a copy of their check or Internet or-matched through September 30.

Aquila, the company that pro-tiree and customer contributions to operations throughout its seven-

The company said it has released

Company employees are holding fund raisers for hurricane relief and der to (816) 467-9780, or mail it to volunteering for projects to supply Aquila Hurricane Katrina Match, necessities to families that have 20 W. Ninth St., Kansas City, Mo. been displaced by Hurricane 64105. Contributions will be Katrina.

Based in Kansas City, Aquila op-Aquila is posting all of the erates electricity and natural gas company's open jobs with agencies distribution utilities serving 1.3 assisting hurricane victims. The million customers in Colorado, postings include all jobs open in the Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minne-Kansas City headquarters, as well sota, Missouri and Nebraska, and Aquila will match employee, reas natural gas and electric utility also operates power plants.

Seed-spitting time

Whitney Schileds (left) and Justeen Koehler, both members of the Cowgirls volleyball team, chowed down on watermelon after classes Thursday at Goodland High School. Glenn Burk, a fan and booster, gave the school 30 melons from his patch, and Steve Raymer, athletic director and assistant principal, sliced them up to feed athletes and band members.

Photo by Kathryn Burke/The Goodland Star-News

When someone buys things with your credit card, you are responsible for $50

Dear Attorney General Kline: I opened my bills today and discovered that someone else used my credit card to purchase furniture, pay for a hotel room and buy gasoline. Am I responsible for these

Dear Kansas Consumer:

Identity theft continues to be one of the fastest growing crimes in the world, and unfortunately Kansas is no exception to this trend. Identity theft occurs when someone enters into transactions pretending to be you and using your financial infor-

The widespread use of credit ards, especially with machines like at a "pay-at-the-pump" gas station result of lost or stolen credit card bogus billings and reporting them well as old cards and pre-apmakes it easy for someone who has information. A cardholder is re- immediately to your credit card stolen your card to charge goods in sponsible to pay the first $50 company, because what is only $5

attorney general

Most people affected don't be- your credit card agreement you billing statements. When their bills card company. arrive, the immediate question on most consumers' minds is usually free hotline for the reporting of sto-"do I have to pay this?"

liability a consumer may incur as a monthly statements, watching for your credit card information, as charged against a stolen credit card on this month's statement could be

Credit card issuers are required to notify consumers of this potential liability, so if you consult the specific terms and conditions contained in come aware that their personal in- should be able to locate this inforformation has been stolen until the mation, as well as the steps to folcredit card charges show up on their low to resolve it with your credit

Many issuers also provide a tolllen cards or fraudulent activity.

Federal and state law limits the Consumers should scrutinize unwanted documents containing

$5,000 on next month's statement. It is much easier to prevent identity theft than to correct it. By taking the following precautions, you · Always keep your credit card statements in a secure location and keep them to yourself. Lending your credit cards to others, sending them via e-mail, or giving them out over the phone (if you did will be on your way to protecting your good credit:

proved credit solicitations you receive in the mail. If you simply throw them in the trash, there's no telling who might find them.

making an Internet purchase, be sure the site is secure and make sure escrow service that will protect item and are satisfied with it.

Again, should your credit card be lost, stolen or used without your credit card provider and follow their directions on review and reporting.

Attorney General's Consumer Pro-tions.

• If you use a credit card when have made of their good name and credit record.

As with any crime, you cannot the site uses a payment service or completely control whether you will become a victim. But you can your money until you receive the minimize your risk by carefully managing your personal informa-

Attorney General Phill Kline ofapproval, immediately contact your fers this public service to help you avoid becoming a victim of consumer fraud. Although some of the If this procedure results in details have been changed, the charges of more than $50 per ac- cases appearing in this column are count, you should then notify the based on actual complaints or ques-

> For further information or to file complaint, please write Attorney

matters of record

Department:

Starla Kear reported theft of cell phones at 1300 Arcade.

reported to the Goodland Police referred to the county attorney for ence at 100 W. 16th. battery and disorderly conduct at 1209 Cherry.

Keith Schorzman Jr. reported $150 and a pair of sunglasses val- dow estimated at $400 at 303

Robert Gittinger reported of a Motorola cell phone valued at criminal damage to a vehicle win-Sherman.

Goodland Police at $500 at 904 W. 16th. The following crimes have been

Sept. 1 — Hannah West and criminal damage to property valued ued at $50 at 1209 Cherry.

Richard Billinger reported theft

Sept. 3 — Jeffrey Aultman was Sept. 2 — Two juveniles were arrested for driving under the influ-

Wal-Mart reported theft at 2160

Shop Burlington for all your needs

Natural Foods, Vitamins, Massage Therapy, Acupuncture & More

Natural Living Cottage & Wellness Center

314 14th Street, Burlington, Co.

719-346-4681

Advertising pays give Mona a call today.

785-899-2338

 Gourmet Chocolate Window Covering

 Wall paper Superior Flooring & Rugs

360 14th Street, Burlington, Co.

719-346-7579

Dan & Myrna Troyer

not initiate the call) makes it easier for identity thieves to hijack your numbers. • Shred or otherwise deface any tection Division at 1-800-432-Identity theft is a serious crime. General Phill Kline, Consumer People whose identities have been Protection Division, 120 SW 10th stolen can spend months or years— Ave., 2nd Floor, Topeka, Kan. and their hard-earned money — 66612, or call the toll-free Concleaning up the mess the thieves sumer Hotline, 1-800-432-2310.

*Pictured with Cris, is husband Steve, Sandy Vazquez, Lynn Hoelting and other invited guests.

Goodland Star-News

and The Goodland Area Chamber of Commerce and Ambassadors

welcome

Joyful Noise Preschool, Inc. 416 Caldwell 890-8895

Director Cris Riebel, opened the doors September 12th to Goodland's newest preschool. Licensed with the Kansas Department of Health and Environment, Cris has a place for kids to feel secure, where play is priority, but where that play is carefully designed to develop children's social and school skills. Her commitment to quality care is a guarantee to you and your children

> The preschool has a Board of Trustees - Lynn Hoelting, Juli Shelley, Sid Unruh, Sandy Vasquez and Cris Riebel.

The preschool has also established a scholarship fund to assist families with tuition payments.

Class sessions are available Monday, Wednesday, Friday mornings and afternoons, Tuesday and Thursday mornings for children ages 3-5.