Goodland Chamber turns over new leaf

CHAMBER, from Page 1

Chamber did the organizing. "It was great," he said, "as good as it has ever been or better."

He said the festival should be an example of how well an event can run without the Chamber if people get involved.

A Chamber representative should visit member businesses once a month. he said.

While they can't start that immediately, he said, it's one of the group's goals.

The representatives will get together to share information and concerns of business owners and then work to meet their needs.

The Chamber still owes $20,000 to creditors and Linin said they want to erase that debt.

To work towards financial freedom, Linin said, the Chamber terminated its lease at the former office and moved into a space in the Economic Development Council office, 1208 Main.

The rent there, he said, is $100 a month, but they won't have to pay until they got back on their feet. He said they had to let Courtney Warden, the Chamber manager, go because they couldn't afford to pay

Now the Chamber office is open regular operating hours, he said, but t's run by volunteers.

Linin said with the Chamber's

Focus shifts to businesses

FOCUS, from Page 1

group to welcome new businesses.

The Chamber will work to develop businesses, he said, through education, consultation and assistance. Linin said they will continue with hotline alerts to warn businesses about forged checks, counterfeit money and other common dangers.

Businesses could benefit from help with employadded.

The beautification committee will continue to help clean up the town. After successful clean-up campaigns, Linin said, they feel beautification is important and should be continued.

The Chamber, he said, will work closely with the Sherman County Economic Development Council and the Convention and Visitor's Bureau to continue promoting the area.

"Our commitment is to have the organizations to-current troubles, he is sure some ance by the end of the year. people may not be quick to support the group, but he wants to remain contribution from Economic Depositive and work to keep the velopment and one-time donations Chamber out of future trouble.

"We feel like this will be the last lar fees. time (the Chamber will be in finaning to lay a foundation so that it never happens again."

The board's plan, he said, is to history of mismanagement and the bring the group back to a zero bal-

They hope to do that through a from members, in addition to regu-

Linin said the board wants to get least $5,000 and increase that to at least $10,000 in coming years.

"It's a whole different mentality," gether, working together as effectively and efficiently as possible," Linin said.

These new plans will all be coordinated by the board and through the office, which will continue to keep regular hours.

Linin said having an operating Chamber is important to the community and with volunteer help, they should be able to keep the doors open.

The office will continue to provide Chamber rement services and human resource services, he location packets full of information for people moving to town.

Linin said they will keep the Chamber web site up, since many people go there first to check out Goodland.

"It's a valuable service we provide," he said. The Chamber, Linin said, still plans to hold its annual meeting. He said the board wants the meeting to continue as a nice event.

For information, to volunteer or to join the Chamber, call 890-7130.

he said. Everyone the Chamber owes money to has been contacted and the group has worked out payment plans, he said. Along with new money management, Linin said, over the next five to seven years, the board hopes to become a model Chamber in the state.

Board has new members of Commerce board is made up of President Brian Linin, Frontier Equity Exchange; Vice President Ken Clouse, president of the Northwest Kansas Technical College; Secretary Debbie Reed, real estate and insurance agent at Hayden Inc.; Treasurer Dan Rasure, Rasure Lumber; and members Karen Ginther, vice president at Western State Bank; Trevor Linton, wealth management financial consultant at First National Bank; Darren Kannady, vice president of the information technology department at First National; and Darrick Leiker, owner and manager of High Plains Office Supply. "We've got a really good

The Goodland Area Chamber group," Linin said.

"Everybody's committed. We want to put Goodland on the map."

Former president Donna Swager resigned this summer.

Linin said she felt it was best for the Chamber. Linton and Kannady are relative newcomers.

They were elected to take the places of Tremon Kizer, band instructor in the Goodland School District, and Randy Schoenthaler, manager of People's State Bank, who both moved from town.

The nine-member board is still short one member and they plan to have elections to fill the spot soon.

they haven't lost any members.

"I really see our community getting behind us and helping," he said.

Right now, they have 99 total members, about one-third of them private members or small organizations and the other two-thirds from businesses. That is about 60 of a cally represents the community of possible 180 businesses, he added.

Linin said people should join the So far, Linin said, people have Chamber because they will work to voiced support for the group and make Goodland a better place and that alone will attract more businesses. He said the Chamber is only as good as its members allow it to be.

The new mission for the organization is: "The Goodland Area Chamber of Commerce dynami-Goodland through continual improvement to promote growth, development and a positive business atmosphere."

Goodland sex offender sentenced to ten years in prison

OFFENDER, from Page 1

tions."

Selby asked King where these special treatment programs are offered.

He said Texas, Arizona and California.

She asked if they were expensive and who would pay for the treat-

King said they cost $800-$1,000 per day, and the patient is responsible for the cost.

He agreed that Petracich was too ment, I should have a second high a risk to be placed on probation Selby said the state offers a program within the prison system.

She said the two-year program is required for this type of conviction. Mason read a statement from Petracich.

"My offense is not who I am," Petracich's statement said. 'I didn't kind family I worked for.

"I believe with the right treat-chance. ter than prison. I wish I could take it back. I have been physically ill over what I did. I would ask that I have a chance to rehabilitate." In his closing argument, Mason said Petracich needs treatment which is not available in the prison system. He asked the judge to do some Petracich to remain in the Bastille until he could get him into one of the

"I hate what I did. Rehab is bet- treatment, Mason said, he should be released to community corrections and be an outpatient at Prairie View.

> "Prison is not the best place for him," Mason said.

"This case is troubling to me and everybody else," Judge Burr said. "I understand the frustration and bitterness of the parents. I don't seem to have an appropriate answer to keep this from happening

After completing the intensive and if I felt there was a chance for success, it would be an answer.

"He is not going to be in prison for the rest of his life. He does need some treatment. King said he did not know of a program in the state he has any faith in. The programs recommended are in Arizona, California and Texas. We do not know if he could qualify for these, and there is the problem that he is on probation from another state.

"I keep in mind the fact that similar incidents occurred in Scott

'I don't see any real alternatives. I looked at all the filing from Scott County that there were two offenses, and I am going to consider it that way

"That makes this a Level 5 category, and with the previous cases it is a 'B,' which means I sentence him to the Department of Corrections for 120 months with credit for time served."

Burr added court costs, other fees and restitution of $30 for one of the mental health evaluations to the sentence.

matters of record

Goodland Police

The following crimes have been county attorney. reported to the Goodland Police Department:

Sept. 12—Lacy Potterf-Carson was arrested for battery and disorderly conduct against Lisa Carson at 2160 Commerce. The case was referred to the city attorney Sept. 13—A juvenile was taken disorderly conduct against Joshua Charles J. Wyant to J.P. Gregory into protective custody at 813 Broadway. The case was referred to the county attorney.

W. 2nd. The case was referred to the were arrested for driving while sus- to the county attorney. pended and minor in possession at 1400 Main. The case was referred to the county attorney.

Sept. 17 — Daron J. Hovis was County Register of Deeds: rrested for aggravated battery and J. P. Gregory Williams M. Hatfield at 312 W. 15th. The case Williams, Lot 5, Block 59, Original was referred to the city attorney.

Sept. 21 — A juvenile was arrested for minor in possession at Joshua Hatfield and one juvenile 1209 Cherry. The case was referred

Real Estate

The following real estate transactions were reported by the Sherman

Big brothers, big sisters clue No. 2 Mystery Show Clue #2: Dogs are not only a man's best friend.

"If there was a program available County.

again.

plan to hurt anyone, especially the creative sentencing by allowing special programs.

cial trouble)," he said. "We're try- and maintain a bank balance of at Vernon Hunt reported burglary and theft at 1016 Sherman.

Sept. 14 — A runaway was reported at 717 Grand.

An out of state runaway was reported at 1629 Wyoming.

county attorney.

Sept. 15 — Micki Ensign reported criminal use of a financial card used for $462.96 at 314 Broadway. The case was referred to the city attorney.

taken into protective custody at 222 referred to the county attorney.

Caleb Simon was arrested for theft from Wal-Mart at 2160 Com- M. O'Brien, Lot 5, Block 1, Eastmerce. The case was referred to the ridge subdivision of Academy Adcity attorney.

Sept. 19 — Brendan Andrew Flodin reported battery and disor- Justin P. Harris, Lots 13, 14, 15, the derly conduct at 1209 Cherry. The south 19 feet of Lot 15 and the south The case was referred to the case was referred to the county attorney.

> Justin Tesmer was arrested on a warrant at 824 Wyoming. The case was referred to the city attorney.

Sept. 20 — Pamela Has was arrested for a warrant in another juris-Sept. 16 — Two juveniles were diction at 204 W. 11th. The case was

Town of Goodland.

Syd D. and Sherri A. Keith to Jay dition in the City of Goodland.

Arnold R. and Darlene W. Scott to 19 feet of Lot 16, Block 22, Third Addition in the City of Goodland.

DIGITAL www.goodlandnet.cor	m/movies
Tonight 7:00
Just Like Heaven
(PG-13)
Starts Friday 7:00
	Wallace & Gromit:
The Cu	rse of the Were-Rabbit (PG-13)

Colby, KS

email: mcauto@st-tel.net

Colby, Kansas

If you miss the Safeway circulars we do too-Call

The Goodland Star-News

and

785-899-2338