Tech college hires new admissions director

A Colby Community College graduate has been named as the new director of admissions at the Northwest Kansas Technical College.

Michael D. Bauer earned an Associate of Applied Science degree in physical therapy from the Colby college and a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration for Bellevue University in Nebraska. He and his family moved from southwest Nebraska to Goodland in April. He will plan and oversee the recruitment of students. "The college has established the management of enrollment and recruitment of students as the No. 1 priority," said President Ken Clouse. "We are pleased to have Michael join the college family in this capacity."

The college offers programs that train students for some of the fastest-growing jobs in the United States, Bauer said. Most are vital to the growth and support of local infrastructures.

Bauer urges prospective students to contact him at the college. Call (785) 890-3641, visit the web site at www.nwktc.org or e-mail the new admissions director at mbauer@nwktc.org.

Student selected for governor's award

Morgan Titus of Goodland was selected to attend the 23rd annual Governor's Scholars Award Program Sunday, May 7, in Topeka.

The ceremony honors the academic top 1 percent of seniors from accredited public and private Kansas high schools.

"These high school seniors have shown dedication in their studies and a commitment to learning," Gov. Kathleen Sebelius said. "They've earned this honor, and I want to congratulate them on this achievement."

The program is coordinated for the governor by the Confidence in Kansas Public Education Task Force and paid for by donations from the Kansas Bankers Association and other businesses in the state.

Brewster student goes to institute

Luke Goudy, a student at Brewster High School, was selected to participate in the Kansas State University College of Engineering science summer institute this week.

He will have the chance to learn about engineering, physics, chemistry, biology and math. The university faculty will offer lectures and labs to illustrate some of the challenges and problems of the 21st century.

While at K-State, teams of students will design a balsa structure and test it for strength/loading using engineering laboratory equipment. The students will reverse engineer a toy to evaluate the manufacturing process, costs and design. In addition, they will have a chance to learn leadership and to learn about campus life.
