Congratulations! Grant Junior High students on sports, music, citizenship awards

Winners announced on last day

Eight Grant Junior High students received awards for music, sports and citizenship on the last day of school.

The Mustang of the Year and Female Athlete of the Year were named, along with the two winners of the Citizenship Awards and the band and vocal students of the year.

Ryan Irvin and Emily Klemm received the Citizenship Awards, Jay Cotter was the Mustang of the Year, and Angie Hillmer was the Female Athlete of the Year.

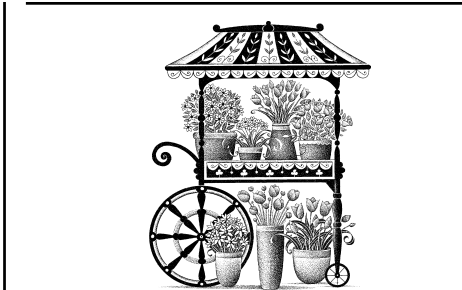

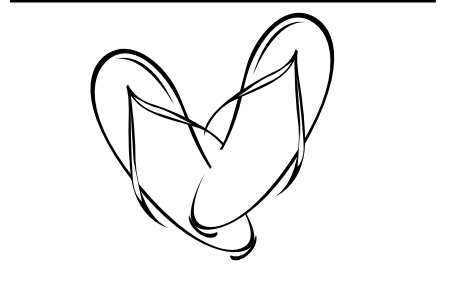

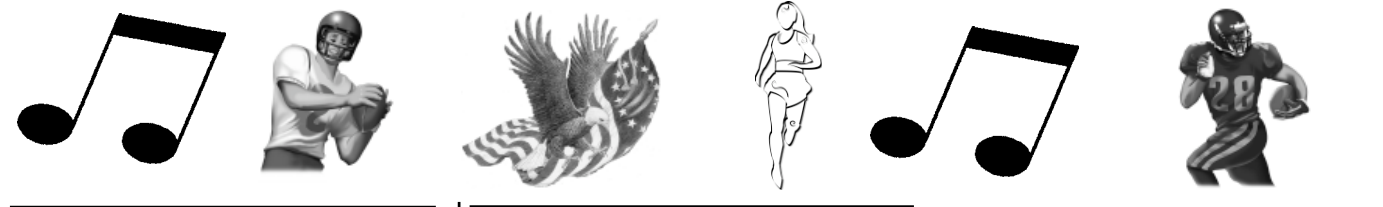

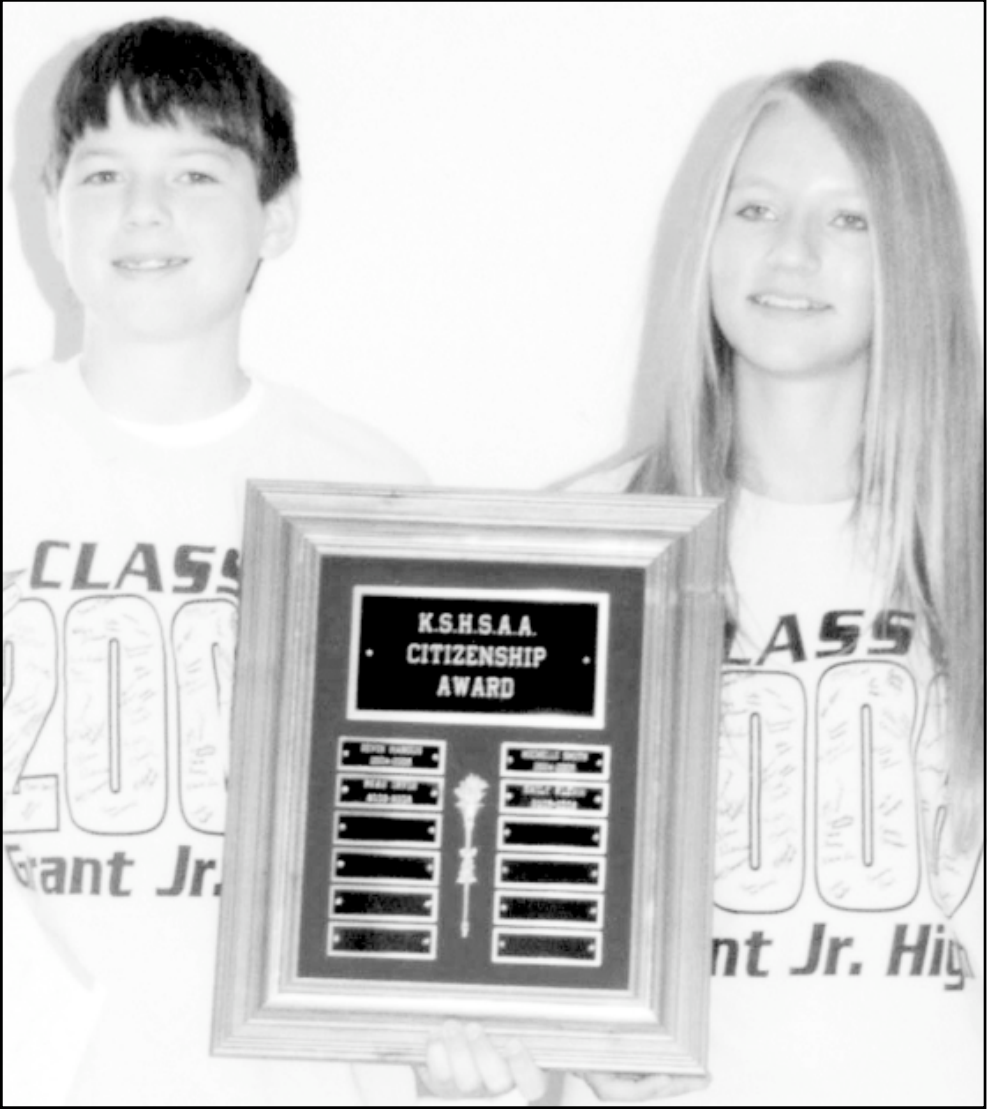

Band awards went to Ben Waugh and Klemm and vocal awards to Brook Redlin and Heidi Lawson.

The sports awards were based on participation in six sports, a grade point average of 2.5 or better, attendance and general contribution to the sports program, said Jim Mull, principal at Grant.

The Citizenship Award is a Kansas State High School Activities Association program; it can be awarded each year to one boy and one girl.

"There is a list of qualifications the students are judged on," Mull said. "After all the nominations are in, I have the staff vote on three names, and the top ones get the award."

Citizenship is judged on reverence for the flag, tolerance of others, academics and respect for others. The Goodland Elks presented each Citizenship Award winner with a $50 savings bond, and their names will appear on a plaque in the trophy case at the school.
