PARTNERSHIP IN AG

Some things never change...agriculture isn't one of them.

In today's complex business world, you not only have to stay on top of what's going on in your own back pasture, you have to be aware of what's happening halfway round the world. Working together you can be both in the fields and on-line at the same time. Getting information about everything from replacement tractor parts to the cloning of beef cattle to the genetic re-engineering of corn and soybeans without missing a beat.

The business of agriculture is changing every day, but Farm Credit is still the ag lending expert. We've been financing America's agri-businesses for over 80 years, so you might say we're another partner you can count on.
